NEW QUESTION # 145

Which of the following is the MOST important attribute of a privacy policy?

- A. Transparency
- B. Breach notification period
- C. Data retention period
- D. Language localization

Answer: A

Explanation:

Transparency is the most important attribute of a privacy policy because it informs the users about how their personal data is collected, used, shared, and protected by the organization. Transparency also helps to build trust and confidence with the users, and to comply with legal and ethical obligations regarding data privacy.

NEW QUESTION # 146

Which of the following is BEST used to validate compliance with agreed-upon service levels established with a third party that processes personal data?

- A. Contractual right to audit
- B. Key performance indicators (KPIs)
- C. Key risk indicators (KRIs)
- D. Industry benchmarks

Answer: A

Explanation:

Explanation

The best way to validate compliance with agreed-upon service levels established with a third party that processes personal data is to have a contractual right to audit, which means that the organization can conduct audits or inspections of the third party's privacy practices, policies, and procedures to verify that they meet the contractual obligations and expectations. A contractual right to audit can also help identify and address any privacy risks or gaps that may arise from the third party's processing of personal data<sup>12</sup>.

NEW QUESTION # 147

Which of the following is the BEST indication of a highly effective privacy training program?

- A. Members of the workforce understand their roles in protecting data privacy
- B. HR has made privacy training an annual mandate for the organization_
- C. No privacy incidents have been reported in the last year
- D. Recent audits have no findings or recommendations related to data privacy

Answer: A

Explanation:

The best indication of a highly effective privacy training program is that members of the workforce understand their roles in protecting data privacy, because this shows that the training program has successfully raised the awareness and knowledge of the workforce on the importance, principles and practices of data privacy, and how they can contribute to the organization's privacy objectives and compliance. According to ISACA, one of the key elements of a privacy training program is to define and communicate the roles and responsibilities of the workforce in relation to data privacy<sup>1</sup>. Members of the workforce who understand their roles in protecting data privacy are more likely to follow the privacy policies and procedures, report any privacy incidents or issues, and support the privacy culture of the organization<sup>2</sup>. Recent audits have no findings or recommendations related to data privacy, no privacy incidents have been reported in the last year, and HR has made privacy training an annual mandate for the organization are not as reliable as members of the workforce understand their roles in protecting data privacy, as they do not necessarily reflect the effectiveness of the privacy training program, but rather the performance of other factors such as audit processes, incident management systems, or HR policies.

NEW QUESTION # 148

Which of the following is MOST important to include in a data use policy?

- A. The reason for collecting and using personal data
- B. The requirements for collecting and using personal data
- C. The method used to delete or destroy personal data
- D. The length of time personal data will be retained

Answer: B

Explanation:

Explanation

A data use policy is a document that defines the rules and guidelines for how personal data are collected, used, stored, shared and deleted by an organization. It is an important part of data governance and compliance, as it helps to ensure that personal data are handled in a lawful, fair and transparent manner, respecting the rights and preferences of data subjects. A data use policy should include the requirements for collecting and using personal data, such as the legal basis, the purpose, the scope, the consent, the data minimization, the accuracy, the security and the accountability. These requirements help to establish the legitimacy and necessity of data processing activities, and to prevent unauthorized or excessive use of personal data.

NEW QUESTION # 149

A migration of personal data involving a data source with outdated documentation has been approved by senior management. Which of the following should be done NEXT?

- A. Review data flow post migration.
- B. Check the documentation version history for anomalies.
- C. Ensure appropriate data classification.
- D. Engage an external auditor to review the source data.

Answer: C

Explanation:

Ensuring appropriate data classification should be done next after a migration of personal data involving a data source with outdated documentation has been approved by senior management, as it helps to identify the types, locations, and owners of the data, and to apply the appropriate privacy controls and measures based on the data classification level. Data classification also facilitates the data discovery, data minimization, data retention, and data disposal processes<sup>15</sup>. Reference: 1 Domain 3, Task 2; 5 Page 9
