NEW QUESTION # 18

You need to connect to an external system using OAuth 2.0: SAML Bearer Assertion Flow authentication type, which requests access to an API on of a signed in user.

This standard has several steps involved with the SAML Bearer Assertion Flow.

Which two steps should you perform to connect to the external system? (Choose two.)

- A. Use an a!authorizationLink() on the relevant interface.
- B. Configure SAML for single sign-on (SSO).
- C. Register the connection in the third-party system
- D. Generate a service account key in third-party systems.

Answer: B,C

Explanation:

Configure SAML for single sign-on (SSO).

The bearer-assertion flow relies on an existing SAML SSO configuration so Appian can issue a signed SAML assertion on behalf of the signed-in user.

Register the connection in the third-party system.

You must register (or "trust") Appian's client/certificate with the external system so it will accept the SAML assertion and issue an OAuth 2.0 access-token for the user.
