UiPath Certified Professional Specialized AI Professional v1.0 Sample Questions (Q31-Q36):

NEW QUESTION # 31

What does adding missed labels help improve in UiPath Communications Mining?

- A. Label precision and recall.
- B. Label bias warnings.
- C. Increases data security.
- D. Increases the taxonomy coverage.

Answer: A

Explanation:

Adding missed labels helps improve the label precision and recall in UiPath Communications Mining.

Precision is the percentage of correctly labeled verbatims out of all the verbatims that have the label applied, while recall is the percentage of correctly labeled verbatims out of all the verbatims that should have the label applied. By adding missed labels, you are increasing the recall of the label, as you are reducing the number of false negatives (verbatims that should have the label but do not). This also improves the precision of the label, as you are reducing the noise in the data and making the label more informative and consistent. Adding missed labels is one of the recommended actions that the platform suggests to improve the model rating and performance of the labels.

NEW QUESTION # 32

Which of the following is a characteristic of a poorly-performing model in UiPath Communications Mining?

- A. Many of the labels in the taxonomy have amber or red performance warnings.
- B. All of the labels in the dataset have at least 25 training examples.
- C. The model makes correct predictions across the majority of the dataset.
- D. 2% of the dataset has been reviewed by a model trainer.

Answer: A

NEW QUESTION # 33

What does the darker shading of a label prediction represent in Explore in UiPath Communications Mining?

- A. An incorrect prediction.
- B. A lower confidence score.
- C. Multiple label predictions.
- D. A higher confidence score.

Answer: D

Explanation:

In UiPath Communications Mining, the shading of label predictions in the Explore section indicates confidence levels. Darker shading represents a higher confidence score, meaning the model is more certain of the prediction made for that particular label.

NEW QUESTION # 34

Which log level in UiPath provides the most detailed information about the execution of activities?

- A. Verbose
- B. Information
- C. Warning
- D. Error

Answer: A

Explanation:

In UiPath, the Verbose log level offers the most detailed information about the execution of activities. It logs every possible detail about the automation operations, including variable changes, function calls, and external responses. This level is particularly useful for in-depth debugging and analysis.

UiPath Documentation

The hierarchy of log levels in ascending order of priority is as follows:

- * Off: No logs are stored.
- * Verbose: Logs all details about automation operations.
- * Trace: Logs finer-grained informational events than the Debug level.
- * Information: Logs informational messages that highlight the progress of the application.
- * Warning: Logs potentially harmful situations.
- * Error: Logs error events that might still allow the application to continue running.
- * Fatal: Logs very severe error events that will presumably lead the application to abort.

Therefore, setting the log level to Verbose ensures that all possible details about the execution are captured, aiding in thorough diagnostics.
