UiPath Automation Business Analyst Associate Exam (2023.10) Sample Questions (Q46-Q51):

NEW QUESTION # 46

Which stage in the automation implementation strategy involves selecting critical quick wins and important low-hanging fruits for initial focus?

- A. Final wave
- B. Second implementation wave
- C. Pilot phase
- D. Third implementation wave

Answer: C

Explanation:

The Pilot phase is the stage in the automation implementation strategy where organizations focus on quick wins and low-hanging fruits—those automation opportunities that are easy to implement, carry minimal risk, and deliver immediate, visible value. These processes typically have low complexity but high impact, such as frequent, repetitive, rules-based tasks.

The purpose of the Pilot phase is to build early momentum, validate the chosen automation tools and methodology, and create internal success stories. These successes help establish credibility for the automation program, gain stakeholder trust, and generate enthusiasm for further automation expansion.

By starting with manageable and well-scoped automations, teams can also fine-tune their implementation practices, identify potential pitfalls, and standardize governance and documentation practices for future waves. These learnings serve as a foundation for scaling automation in subsequent phases such as the second and third waves, which typically involve more complex or cross-functional processes.

Skipping or mismanaging the Pilot phase can lead to early failures, resistance, and slow adoption. Therefore, it is essential to choose this phase's automation candidates carefully based on business value and ease of implementation.

NEW QUESTION # 47

Which of the following best describes a human-in-the-loop automation model?

- A. Robots run independently without user input
- B. Robots only work when manually triggered
- C. Users control the robot's every action in real time
- D. Unattended robots request user input at certain steps

Answer: D

Explanation:

In a human-in-the-loop automation model, unattended robots perform processes automatically but pause and request user input when required. This model allows robots to handle repetitive and rule-based tasks while humans intervene in scenarios that require decision-making or approval.

UiPath supports human-in-the-loop functionality using tools such as UiPath Action Center, where users can review exceptions, provide additional data, or make business decisions. Once the input is received, the automation resumes and completes the rest of the process autonomously.

This model is particularly useful for processes involving compliance checks, approvals, or document verification - blending the speed of automation with human judgment where necessary.

NEW QUESTION # 48

Which stage involves preparing the solution for live operation and monitoring its stability?

- A. Process Analysis
- B. Deployment and Hypercare
- C. Business Case and Technical Validation
- D. Project Closure

Answer: B

Explanation:

The Deployment and Hypercare stage is where the automation is prepared for live operation, and the stability of the deployed solution is closely monitored. This stage ensures that the automation, now in production, is performing as expected and that any early issues are resolved quickly.

Key activities in this stage include:

- * Deploying the automation to the production environment
- * Verifying production environment configurations
- * Monitoring bot behavior and performance
- * Providing quick support for unexpected issues
- * Training end users if needed

The Hypercare period is a temporary support window post-deployment in which the Automation Developer, Solution Architect, and Project Manager remain closely involved to resolve defects, gather feedback, and fine-tune the automation. This stage is critical to ensure user confidence and smooth adoption of the automation into regular operations.

NEW QUESTION # 49

Which document outlines the future state of the process and modules to be developed?

- A. Solution Design Document (SDD)
- B. UAT Test Script
- C. Project Charter
- D. Statement of Work (SOW)

Answer: A

Explanation:

The Solution Design Document (SDD) outlines the future state (To-Be) of the business process, including the detailed technical components and modules to be developed. It is a critical output of the Solution Design stage and serves as the blueprint for the development team.

The SDD includes:

- * Automation logic and flow diagrams
- * Breakdown of reusable modules
- * Exception handling logic
- * Integration and system interaction points
- * Technical configurations and assumptions

Prepared primarily by the Solution Architect, the SDD ensures that development follows a clear and consistent direction. It helps prevent misinterpretation of business requirements and facilitates better collaboration among developers, testers, and architects.

NEW QUESTION # 50

Which three roles are typically involved in the Process Analysis stage?

- A. Client SME, Project Manager, UiPath Sales Team
- B. Project Manager, Automation Developer, Infrastructure Engineer
- C. Business Analyst, Solution Architect, Project Manager
- D. Automation Developer, Client Team, Solution Architect

Answer: C

Explanation:

The Process Analysis stage involves three primary roles from the Implementation Team:

- * Business Analyst
- * Solution Architect
- * Project Manager

The Business Analyst focuses on capturing the As-Is process and identifying business rules. The Solution Architect evaluates the process for technical feasibility and prepares for future automation design. The Project Manager ensures the process is analyzed on schedule, facilitates stakeholder coordination, and manages dependencies.

This trio works collaboratively with the Client Team to create the Process Definition Document (PDD), which defines the automation scope and lays the foundation for all subsequent stages.
