NEW QUESTION # 69

How does API-510 address the challenges of inspecting pressure vessels in remote or hazardous locations?

Answer:

Explanation:

API-510 addresses the challenges of inspecting pressure vessels in remote or hazardous locations by allowing for the use of advanced remote inspection technologies. These include robotic inspection devices, drones equipped with cameras and sensors, and remote non-destructive testing techniques that can be operated from a distance. These technologies help in conducting thorough inspections without compromising the safety of inspectors. Additionally, API-510 encourages the development of inspection plans that specifically consider the logistical and safety challenges associated with remote or hazardous environments.
