Oracle Cloud Infrastructure 2024 Application Integration Professional Sample Questions (Q83-Q88):

NEW QUESTION # 83

You are designing a new integration in OIC that needs to expose a RESTful interface trigger for client applications. Which is a valid consideration while choosing request and response options using the REST Adapter Endpoint Configuration wizard?

- A. Both standard and custom HTTP headers can be defined for both the request and the response.
- B. Although you can define both query and template parameters, only template parameters are available for mapping in the mapper because query parameters are considered optional.
- C. File attachments can be accepted as a request option for the trigger interface, but you cannot include attachments as a response to the client.
- D. If you select a PUT or POST action (HTTP method), you must define a JSON response payload format.

Answer: A

Explanation:

Comprehensive and Detailed Explanation:

REST trigger config:

- * A:True-standard (e.g., Content-Type) and custom headers are supported for request/response.
- * B:False-attachments are possible in responses too.
- * C:False-response format isn't mandatory for PUT/POST.

NEW QUESTION # 84

You are designing a new integration in Oracle Integration (OIC) that needs to expose a RESTful interface for client applications. Which is a valid consideration when choosing request and response options using the REST Adapter Endpoint Configuration Wizard?

Answer: A

Explanation:

Comprehensive and Detailed Explanation:

REST Configuration:

- * A:True-headers are flexible.

NEW QUESTION # 85

In the context of Oracle Integration (OIC), what is the primary purpose of "connections"?

- A. To monitor system performance and application health
- B. To create custom user interfaces for applications
- C. To specify the source and target applications that an integration connects
- D. To manage user roles and access permissions

Answer: C

Explanation:

Comprehensive and Detailed Explanation:

Connections:

- * C:True-define integration endpoints.

NEW QUESTION # 86

As an integration developer, you are creating an integration in Oracle Integration Cloud (OIC) to transform a payload with multiple orders. You need to configure a for-each action to loop through each order and process them individually. How do you correctly configure the for-each action to loop through each order and process them individually?

- A. Select the Group By option and group the orders by the order number.
- B. Select the Sequential Processing option and set the batch size to the number of orders.
- C. Select the Repeating Element field and map the source element that contains the orders.
- D. Select the Parallel Processing option and set the number of threads to the number of orders.

Answer: C

Explanation:

Comprehensive and Detailed Explanation:

The For Each action in OIC iterates over a collection (e.g., multiple orders in a payload). Correct configuration involves:

- * Option C: Selecting the Repeating Element field and mapping it to the source element (e.g., /orders/order) containing the list of orders ensures OIC loops through each item individually. This is the standard and correct approach.
- * Option A: Parallel Processing exists but isn't default for For Each; it's an advanced setting requiring manual thread configuration, not ideal for basic iteration.
- * Option B: Group By is for aggregation, not individual processing, and doesn't apply here.
- * Option D: Sequential Processing is implied in For Each, but "batch size" isn't a configuration option for this action—it's relevant to Stage File operations.

Mapping the repeating element ensures precise, individual order processing.

NEW QUESTION # 87

Which three statements are true about SOAP and the advantages it provides?

- A. It commonly serves as a cleaning agent to remove excess data from the transmission protocol.
- B. It is platform and programming language independent.
- C. It provides flexibility for message format, allowing for loose coupling between client and server.
- D. It leverages XML-based payloads to communicate between two client machines across any modern network.
- E. SOAP clients can easily hold stateful references to remote server-side SOAP objects.
- F. As compared to RPC (Remote Procedure Calls), which are sometimes blocked by firewalls and proxy servers, SOAP over HTTP can overcome that limitation.

Answer: B,D,F

Explanation:

SOAP over HTTP helps bypass firewalls and proxies, uses XML-based messaging for platform independence, and is designed for interoperability between systems. SOAP does not clean excess data (C) and is typically stateless (F).
