- C. `@testConfigFixture`

Answer: C

NEW QUESTION # 25

An Adobe Commerce Developer creates a before plugin for the `save()` method from the `Magento\Framework\App\Cache\Proxy` class to manipulate cache identifiers and data before it is saved to the cache storage.

An example of the class code is shown below:

namespace Magento\Framework\App\Cache;
use Magento\Framework\App\Cache\CacheInterface;
use Magento\Framework\ObjectManager\NoninterceptableInterface;
class Proxy implements
CacheInterface,
NoninterceptableInterface
{
...
public function save($data, $identifier, $tags = [], $lifeTime = null)
{
return $this->getCache()->save($data, $identifier, $tags, $lifeTime);
}
...
}
```

Why is the plugin not working as expected?

- A. An around plugin defined for the same function prevents the execution.
- B. The plugin cannot be created for this class.
- C. An after plugin defined for the same function affects the results.

Answer: B

Explanation:

Comprehensive and Detailed Explanation (with official references):

The correct answer is A. The plugin cannot be created for this class.

The reason is that `Magento\Framework\App\Cache\Proxy` implements the `NoninterceptableInterface`.

* Any class that implements the `NoninterceptableInterface` in Magento is excluded from the plugin system.

* This means no before, after, or around plugins can be applied to methods of such classes.

* Magento uses this mechanism to protect critical classes (like Proxy classes, Factories, and other infrastructure code) from being intercepted, as doing so could introduce performance or stability issues.

Therefore, the developer's plugin for the `save()` method does not work, because plugins are not allowed on this class by design.

Options B and C are incorrect because:

* Another plugin (after/around) does not block the execution in this case; the class itself is simply non- interceptable.

Official Documentation Extracts:

* "Plugins cannot be applied to final classes, final methods, non-public methods, or classes that implement `Magento\Framework\ObjectManager\NoninterceptableInterface`."- Adobe Commerce DevDocs: Plugins limitations

* "Classes implementing `NoninterceptableInterface` cannot be intercepted. This interface is used to mark classes that must not be extended through the plugin mechanism."- Magento Framework Reference:

`NoninterceptableInterface`

An Adobe Commerce Developer is tasked to frequently send data to a third-party API. The API utilizes a JSON Web Token (JWT) that expires every hour. The developer decides to store the JWT in a custom cache.

- A. Define the custom cache type in the `di.xml`, ensuring the cache model implements `CacheInterface`.
- B. Define the custom cache type directly in `system.xml` at the website level.
- C. Define the custom cache type in `cache.xml` with a unique name and instance.

Answer: C

NEW QUESTION # 27

An Adobe Commerce Developer creates a module that adds a product attribute via a data patch.

Adhering to best practices, how should the Developer remove this product attribute when the module is uninstalled?

- A. Create a new CLI command that needs to be executed before the `bin/magento module:uninstall Vendor_ModuleName`.
- B. Make the patch implement `Magento\Framework\Setup\Patch\PatchRevertableInterface` with the `revert()` method in it.
- C. Delete the custom attribute directly from the database.

Answer: B
