- A. Data labeling and classification

- B. Guardrail testing and validation
- C. Regression modeling and minimization
- D. Model auditing and evaluation

Answer: B

Guardrail testing and validation ensure the chatbot adheres to safety, language, and accuracy requirements before deployment. This step verifies the model will not generate harmful, explicit, or unprofessional responses in a customer-facing environment.

NEW QUESTION # 48

Which methods identify vulnerabilities BEFORE deployment? (Choose two.)

- A. Patch management
- B. Behavior analytics
- C. Design reviews
- D. Static code analysis

NEW QUESTION # 49

An AI security administrator notices that the information referenced by the model is incorrectly formatted and missing values. Which of the following job roles would most likely be responsible for correcting this error?

- A. AI architect
- B. Platform engineer
- C. Data engineer
- D. Machine learning operations (MLOps) engineer

Answer: C

Explanation:

A data engineer is responsible for preparing, cleaning, and formatting data pipelines. When information is incorrectly formatted or missing values, the data engineer ensures data integrity and quality before it is used by AI models.

NEW QUESTION # 50

Which of the following is the most concerning risk for a company that allows corporate end users to use public-facing large language models (LLMs)?

- A. Data security regulatory violations
- B. Out-of-date acceptable use policies
- C. Inaccuracies due to hallucinations
- D. Malicious code generation

Answer: A

Explanation:

The greatest concern with employees using public-facing LLMs is the potential exposure of sensitive or regulated corporate data. Submitting such information to external systems may violate data protection laws (e.g., GDPR, HIPAA), creating legal and compliance risks that outweigh issues like hallucinations or malicious outputs.

NEW QUESTION # 51

During the selection of a machine learning (ML)-based threat classification model, a cybersecurity administrator verifies that label distribution is highly unbalanced. Which of the following processing techniques should the engineer use to balance the model?

- A. Data augmentation
- B. Data lineage
- C. Data provenance
- D. Data verification

Answer: A

Explanation:

When label distribution is highly unbalanced, data augmentation generates additional synthetic samples for the underrepresented classes. This balances the dataset, improving the ML model's ability to classify threats accurately across all categories.
