ServiceNow Certified System Administrator Sample Questions (Q217-Q222):

NEW QUESTION # 217

Which set of steps is used to import spreadsheet data into a ServiceNow table?

- A. Select Data Source, Schedule Transform
- B. Load Data, Create Transform Map, Run Transform
- C. Define Data Source, Select Transform Map, Run Transform
- D. Select Import Set, Select Transform Map, Run Transform

Answer: B

Explanation:

Importing spreadsheet data into a ServiceNow table follows a structured process that ensures data is accurately mapped and transformed before being added to the target table. The correct process consists of three main steps:

Navigate to System Import Sets > Load Data.

Upload the spreadsheet (CSV, Excel, etc.) or connect to an external data source.

The system creates an Import Set Table to temporarily store the imported data.

A Transform Map is created to define how fields from the Import Set map to fields in the target table (e.g., incident, cmdb_ci).

Field mappings can be manually configured or auto-mapped if field names match.

Coalesce fields are defined to prevent duplicate records by identifying unique keys.

The Transform Map is executed, transferring data from the Import Set to the final target table.

Any transformation scripts (such as data conversions) are applied during this process.

The imported data is now available in the production table.

1. Load Data (Import Set Creation) 2. Create Transform Map (Mapping Fields to Target Table) 3. Run Transform (Apply Data to the Target Table) B: Select Import Set, Select Transform Map, Run Transform You must first load data before selecting an Import Set. Import Sets are created after data is loaded into the system.

C: Select Data Source, Schedule Transform

While Data Sources define where data comes from, they do not load data directly. Scheduling transformations is optional, but it's not the primary step-by-step method for importing data.

D: Define Data Source, Select Transform Map, Run Transform

Defining a Data Source is part of setting up external integrations, but it is not required for a basic spreadsheet import.

NEW QUESTION # 218

Which statement correctly describes the differences between a Client Script and a Business Rule?

- A. A Client Script executes before a record is loaded and a Business Rule executes after a record is updated
- B. A Client Script executes on the client and a Business Rule executes on the server
- C. A Client Script executes before a record is loaded and a Business Rule executes after a record is loaded
- D. A Client Script executes on the server and a Business Rule executes on the client

Answer: B

Explanation:

Reference: In ServiceNow, Client Scripts and Business Rules are both used to control the behavior of records, but they execute in different environments and serve different purposes.

Key Differences Between Client Scripts and Business Rules: Feature

Client Script

Business Rule

Execution Location

Runs in the user's browser (client-side)

Runs on the ServiceNow server (server-side)

Execution Timing

Runs when a form loads, is submitted, or a field changes

Runs when a record is inserted, updated, deleted, or queried

Performance Impact

Can impact page load time if not optimized

Can impact database performance if not optimized

Use Cases

Used for form validation, auto-filling fields, UI enhancements

Used for data validation, automation, and enforcing business logic

Explanation of Answer Choices: A. A Client Script executes before a record is loaded, and a Business Rule executes after a record is loaded. Incorrect. Business Rules do not execute only after a record is loaded. They can execute on insert, update, delete, or query actions.

B: A Client Script executes on the server and a Business Rule executes on the client. Incorrect. Client Scripts run on the client (browser), and Business Rules run on the server.

C: A Client Script executes on the client and a Business Rule executes on the server. Correct. This is the fundamental difference between Client Scripts and Business Rules.

D: A Client Script executes before a record is loaded and a Business Rule executes after a record is updated. Incorrect. Client Scripts run at different times (onLoad, onChange, onSubmit), and Business Rules can execute on multiple database operations, not just after an update.
