- A. %DRXformCaseData: CaseData%
- B. {{ HTTPGetCaseDetails:CaseData }}
- C. %HTTPGetDetails:CaseData%

NEW QUESTION # 15

A developer configures a Flexcard with a DataRaptor data source that uses the params.id as an. When the developer clicks Views Data on the FlexCard, valid data displays. However, when the developer previews the layout, the FlexCard does not display. What could cause this error?

Choose 2 answers

- A. The attribute hasn't been configured to pass the data to the fields.
- B. The Data Node field for the FlexCard is empty.
- C. There is not Salesforce record for the FlexCard based on the Record Id in the layout's Test Data Source Settings.
- D. The Record Id in the Test Data Source settings ins for the wrong record type.

Answer: B,C

The Data Node field for the FlexCard is required to specify which data source will be used to populate the FlexCard. If it is empty, the FlexCard will not display any data. If there is no Salesforce record for that Record Id, the FlexCard will not display any data either.

NEW QUESTION # 16

An OmniScript updates data from one Salesforce record, but when it completes, only some of the data is updated in Salesforce. A Data Mapper Load saves the data. What error could cause this behavior?

Choose 2 answers

- A. The fields that are not updated are read-only in Salesforce.
- B. The Input JSON paths in the Data Mapper Load do not match the JSON sent from the OmniScript.
- C. In the Data Mapper Load, in the preview tab, the RecordId is from the wrong record type.
- D. ContextId is misspelled in the merge code that passes the RecordId to the Data Mapper.

Answer: A,B

Explanation:

According to the Salesforce OmniStudio DataRaptor documentation, specifically under DataRaptor Load Best Practices and Common Issues:

* A. "The Input JSON paths in the Data Mapper Load do not match the JSON sent from the OmniScript." This is a common configuration issue. If the paths between the OmniScript's structure and the DataRaptor Load mapping are mismatched, fields may not map correctly, resulting in partial updates or no updates.

* B. "The fields that are not updated are read-only in Salesforce." If a field is Read-Only at the field-level security (FLS) or object schema, DataRaptor Load will not be able to write to it, which explains why only some data is updated.

Incorrect Options:

* C. The RecordId from the wrong record type would typically cause a complete failure, not a partial update.

* D. A misspelled ContextId could prevent data from being linked correctly, but this is less likely to cause partial field-level issues, and more likely to affect record association.
