Appian Associate Developer Sample Questions (Q21-Q26):

NEW QUESTION # 21

When applying a default filter to a record type, what is a true statement for excluded data?

- A. The data does not show up in the record list, but end-users can clear the filter condition to view the data.
- B. The data does not show up in the record list, but can be accessed by end-users using a direct link to a record view.
- C. The data does not show up in the record list. End-users are unable to clear the filter condition to view the data.

Answer: A

Explanation:

When a default filter is applied to a record type in Appian, the data excluded by that filter does not appear in the default record list. However, end-users with appropriate permissions can modify or clear the filter conditions to view the excluded data. This behavior allows for a flexible and user-driven data exploration experience within Appian record lists.

NEW QUESTION # 22

You have a record type ABC_Author, backed by a database table. You created a process that allows the user to modify an existing author.

When configuring the Write Records smart service, what should you consider regarding the record ID?

- A. The primary key field must hold the ID of the existing author record item.
- B. You have to call the `!getExistingRecordId()` function to get the value for the primary key field.
- C. The Write Records smart service will always update an existing record item.

Answer: A

NEW QUESTION # 23

You need to start a process using an email trigger.

How should you configure this process model using the Process Model Properties dialog?

- A. Go to File > Properties > Alerts. Configure the Custom Alert settings.
- B. Go to File > Properties. Select the Public Events checkbox to allow anyone to fire triggers.
- C. Go to File > Properties Set the proper Process Display Name

Answer: A

Explanation:

To start a process using an email trigger, you need to configure the process model to listen for an email event. This is done by going to File > Properties > Alerts in the process model properties dialog and configuring the Custom Alert settings. Here you can specify the email address that will trigger the process when an email is sent to it.

NEW QUESTION # 24

Which two scenarios are ideal for using Appian Portals? (Choose two.)

- A. An employee who does not have an account wants to register for their company's vehicle fleet a management system.
- B. A retail customer wants to conduct a public survey for their recently launched product.
- C. A user needs to submit support requests when they are using their mobile device in areas with bad network coverage.
- D. A manager wants to obtain a view of their team's performance.

Answer: A,B

Explanation:

Appian Portals are designed for scenarios where users who do not have an Appian account need to interact with Appian applications. This makes them ideal for public-facing applications such as surveys (Option B) or for allowing external users to initiate processes like registrations (Option C). They are not intended for internal use by employees (Option A) or for scenarios requiring offline capabilities (Option D).
