ISTQB CTAL-TM-001 Exam Syllabus Topics:

Topic	Details
Topic 1	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Managing the Test Activities: This section of the exam measures the skills of a Test Manager and covers the end-to-end coordination of testing work. Candidates must demonstrate how to plan testing—defining objectives, scope, resources, schedule, and risk treatments—then how to monitor progress against those plans, control deviations through corrective actions, and conclude testing with completion reports, archival of testware, and lessons-learned sessions. The syllabus also explores tailoring test activities to project context, applying risk-based testing to focus effort where it matters most, shaping a coherent project test strategy, leading process-improvement initiatives, and selecting and managing test tools throughout their lifecycle.</li> </ul>
Topic 2	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Managing the Product: This section of the exam measures the skills of a Test Analyst and focuses on the artefacts under test and the metrics that describe them. Examinees show how to define and collect test metrics to monitor quality and progress, estimate effort and resources for different test scopes, and organize defect management workflows that fit sequential, iterative, or hybrid lifecycles. The aim is to ensure test outcomes align with objectives and inform stakeholders through clear reporting, while using estimation techniques and defect data to guide ongoing test and process improvements.</li> </ul>
Topic 3	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Managing the Team: This section of the exam measures the skills of a Test Lead and addresses the human side of test management. Candidates must demonstrate how to identify the skills required for each project, assess and develop team competence, and apply motivating leadership practices. The syllabus also covers stakeholder relationship management, understanding interests and influence, articulating the business case for testing, and balancing cost-of-quality considerations to ensure testing is properly resourced, communicated, and valued within the wider project.</li> </ul>

ISTQB Certified Tester Advanced Level - Test Manager Sample Questions (Q79-Q84):

NEW QUESTION # 79

Continuing with the Scenario described in the previous question, which of the following topics would you need to address in detail in the master test plan? 3 credits

- A. A logical collection of test cases
- B. A list of boundary values for "advance amount"
- C. A description of dependencies between test cases
- D. An approach to regression testing

Answer: D

NEW QUESTION # 80

Your Project Manager has challenged you to come up with a process improvement strategy using the IDEAL model. Which step within the process defines the success criteria? [2]

- A. Analysis
- B. Initiation
- C. Diagnosing
- D. Entrance

Answer: C

Explanation:

In the IDEAL model, the Diagnosing step is where the success criteria are defined. This step involves understanding the current state and identifying gaps between the current and desired states. It sets the stage for creating action plans to address these gaps and defines the metrics for success.

NEW QUESTION # 81

Which of the following can demotivate a tester?

- A. Receiving direct and honest feedback on areas to improve
- B. When metrics indicate weaknesses in their testing
- C. Working extra hours, resulting in a successful product deployment
- D. When testing is cut short, resulting in a high number of production defects

Answer: D

Explanation:

This can demotivate a tester because it implies that the tester's work is not valued or respected by the management or the stakeholders. It also suggests that the tester's efforts and skills are wasted or ineffective, as the product quality is compromised and the customer satisfaction is reduced. Testing is cut short when there is insufficient time, budget, or resources allocated for testing, or when there is pressure to release the product without adequate testing. This can lead to frustration, dissatisfaction, and loss of confidence among the testers. Top 6 things that demotivate a developer

NEW QUESTION # 82

You are the Test Manager of a four-person test team working for a small distribution company with a single warehouse. Your team has been working with a third party development team on a new inventory management system. The company expects this system to generate approximately one million dollars per annum in profits for the company. Early in the project, various risks were identified, and steps taken to mitigate those risks.

For example, you sent your test team for training on the new system, and upgraded the test environment. There are still some lingering risks that have not been addressed, but they have been determined to have a low chance of occurring, with minimal impact if they do occur.

What would be the best option to mitigate these remaining risks? [3]

- A. Create a cross-functional team to work to reduce the impact and likelihood of these risks coming to fruition.
- B. Contract with the Risk Protection Insurance company to assume these risks at a cost of $500,000 per annum.
- C. Redo the project test plan to add additional testing for these risk items.
- D. Note the risks, and ignore them for now.

Answer: A

Explanation:

Creating a cross-functional team to address the remaining risks is the best option, as it actively involves various stakeholders in the mitigation process. This approach allows for diverse perspectives and expertise to be applied to reduce both the likelihood of the risks occurring and their potential impact, without incurring excessive costs or ignoring the risks altogether.

Reference:

The ISTQB Advanced Level Test Manager syllabus and related documents emphasize the importance of risk management throughout the testing process. It suggests that forming teams to address risks can be an effective strategy, as it leverages collective knowledge and resources to mitigate risks in a cost-effective manner

NEW QUESTION # 83

Your test team has created a custom automation tool that will be used for an upcoming release. Now that the tool has been coded, what should be the next step? [1]

- A. Create the tool support guide
- B. Compare the new tool to open source tools
- C. Perform an ROI study
- D. Test the tool

Answer: D

Explanation:

The next step after creating a custom automation tool is to test the tool itself. This is to ensure that the tool is reliable, functional, and compatible with the system under test. Testing the tool involves verifying its features, performance, usability, security, and stability. Testing the tool also helps to identify and fix any defects or issues before using it for the actual testing of the product. ISTQB
