PMI Agile Certified Practitioner Sample Questions (Q365-Q370):

NEW QUESTION # 365

During a backlog refinement meeting, a senior team member raises a concern about an epic sizing that requires the use of a new interface for a vendor product. The product owner acknowledges this as a risk.

What should the product owner do now?

- A. Create a spike story to determine what needs to be done to use the new interface.
- B. Move the work to the vendor, since they have better knowledge of interface implementation.
- C. Lower the epic's priority so that it can be deferred, and analyze it during backlog refinement meetings.
- D. Log the risk in the risk register, and share the information with impacted stakeholders at the next monthly review meeting.

Answer: D

NEW QUESTION # 366

An agile lead is working on a project to build a new product that will bring substantial business value to a company. Company executives want to present the first release at an important industry fair the following month. The agile lead started the project the previous month, and the team planned the release to take 8 iterations. For the past 4 iterations, work has been performed as planned and on time. In the current iteration, however, one team member will be out for the remainder of the project. Without this team member, velocity would drop 30%.

What should the agile lead do to ensure the release will be on time for the fair?

- A. Reduce the scope of the release to meet the deadline.
- B. Hire a new team member to replace the missing one.
- C. Deliver as many features as possible based on the new velocity.
- D. Extend the project timeline to accommodate the missing team member.

Answer: A

Explanation:

In this situation, the most practical solution is to reduce the scope of the release to meet the deadline. Since one team member will be absent, causing a reduction in velocity, the team may not be able to complete all planned work in the time remaining. By reducing the scope, the team can focus on delivering the most critical features for the industry fair and ensure that the release is still valuable and on time. This aligns with Agile principles of prioritizing the most valuable work and delivering iteratively based on available capacity.
