NEW QUESTION # 275

Hotspot Question

You have a server named Server1 that runs Windows Server, has the File Server Resource Manager role service installed, and hosts a file share named Share02.

You need to configure Server1 to meet the following requirements:

- Notify administrators when a user uses more than 50 GB of space on Share02.

- Send administrators a weekly email that lists duplicate files on Server1.

The solution must minimize administrative effort.

What should you create for each requirement? To answer, select the appropriate options in the answer area.

NOTE: Each correct selection is worth one point.

Answer Area

Microsoft

Notify administrators when a user uses more than 50 GB of data on Share02:

- A file screen
- A hard quota for Share2
- A quota template
- A soft quota for Share2

Send administrators a weekly email that lists duplicate files on Server1:

- A classification rule
- A custom file management task
- A file screen
- A report task

Answer:

Explanation:

Answer Area

Notify administrators when a user uses more than 50 GB of data on Share02:

Send administrators a weekly email that lists duplicate files on Server1:

Explanation:

Box 1: A soft quota for Share2

A soft quota does not enforce the quota limit, but it generates all configured notifications. Box 2: A report task. Set maximum values for storage reports. On the Storage Reports tab when you configure File Server Resource Manager options, you can now specify the maximum number of files per report. When you configure default parameters for a report, you can also configure the following maximum values:

* For the Duplicate Files report, you can specify the maximum number of files in a duplicate group per report, and the maximum number of groups of duplicate files per report.
