- A. Segment
- B. Transition
- C. Application
- D. Capability

Answer: C

NEW QUESTION # 33

- A. Subordinate, and Superior Architecture.
- B. Project, and Solution Delivery.
- C. Segment, and End-to-end Target Architecture.
- D. Discreet, and Cohesive.

Answer: C

Explanation:

The planning horizon, depth, and breadth of an Architecture Project, along with the contents of the EA Repository, are typically framed by Strategy, Portfolio, Segment, and End-to-end Target Architecture. The 'Segment' refers to a part of the organization, typically addressed in a Segment Architecture, while 'End-to-end Target Architecture' encompasses the complete view of the planned architecture across the entire organization.

NEW QUESTION # 34

- A. Invalid
- B. In between phases
- C. Known as "Version 0.1"

- D. Called "draft"

Reference: The TOGAF Standard | The Open Group Website, Section 4.2.5 Architecture Deliverables.

NEW QUESTION # 35

Which of the following is included as part of the practice of Architecture Governance?

- A. Interacting with the CxO level on Enterprise Architecture.
- B. Implementation of controls over the creation of architectural components.
- C. Creating and maintaining the Statement of Architecture Work throughout the ADM cycle.
- D. Managing stakeholders, their concerns, and their requirements.

Answer: B

Explanation:

In TOGAF, Architecture Governance is concerned with establishing and operating the structures, processes, and controls that ensure architecture is properly managed and complied with across the enterprise. A central part of this practice is the implementation of controls over the creation and evolution of architectural components. This means governance is not only about defining architecture, but also about ensuring that architecture work products, building blocks, standards, and implementation activities are developed in a controlled and consistent way.

Option B is therefore the best answer because it reflects the core governance function of directing and controlling architecture-related work. Governance in TOGAF includes oversight, compliance assessment, decision rights, dispensations, and monitoring conformance to approved architectures and standards.

Option A may occur in leadership engagement, but it is not the clearest definition of architecture governance practice itself. Option C is incorrect because the Statement of Architecture Work is produced and maintained as part of ADM execution, especially early-phase planning, not as a defining governance practice throughout the full cycle. Option D relates more to stakeholder management and requirements management, which are important architecture activities, but they are not the best direct description of architecture governance.

Therefore, the correct answer is B.

NEW QUESTION # 36

Which section of the TOGAF template for Architecture Principles should highlight the requirements for carrying out the principle?

- A. Name
- B. Implications

- D. Statement

Answer: B

Explanation:

It also identifies the changes, costs, and risks that may result from applying the principle²³. The Implications section helps to communicate the benefits and consequences of the principle to the stakeholders and to guide the implementation and governance of the architecture²³.

The other sections of the TOGAF template for Architecture Principles are¹:
