PRINCE2 Agile Foundation Sample Questions (Q161-Q166):

NEW QUESTION # 161

What is a role of personas in the 'business case' practice?

- A. To group users based on demographic data
- B. To ensure project timelines are met
- C. To differentiate between product versions
- D. To identify and articulate specific user benefits

Answer: D

Explanation:

Personas in PRINCE2 Agile serve as fictional, archetypal users representing the needs, behaviors, and goals of real users. In the business case practice, personas are used to identify and articulate specific user benefits.

This ensures the project focuses on delivering value that meets the actual needs of different user groups.

By understanding personas, teams can tailor product features and prioritize requirements that provide meaningful benefits, thereby strengthening the business case and increasing stakeholder buy-in. Personas help clarify who will use the product, what problems they face, and how the solution delivers value.

Personas go beyond demographic grouping (A); they are detailed profiles including motivations and pain points. They do not relate directly to timelines (B) or product version differentiation (D).

Using personas aligns with agile principles of customer focus and continuous stakeholder engagement embedded in PRINCE2 Agile.

NEW QUESTION # 162

Which workshop extracts actionable insights for future iterations?

- A. Team planning workshop
- B. Project initiation workshop
- C. Project retrospective workshop
- D. Progress review workshop

Answer: C

Explanation:

Agile Foundation guidance clearly states that the project retrospective workshop is the workshop designed to extract actionable insights for future iterations, making option C the correct answer. Retrospectives are a core Agile practice focused on learning, reflection, and continuous improvement. Their primary purpose is to help teams and stakeholders understand what has happened, why it happened, and how future ways of working can be improved.

During a project retrospective workshop, participants reflect on recent iterations or delivery stages, examining aspects such as collaboration, communication, processes, tools, quality, and decision-making. The emphasis is not on assigning blame, but on identifying patterns, root causes, and opportunities for improvement. From this reflection, the team agrees on concrete, actionable actions that can be implemented in upcoming iterations to enhance effectiveness and outcomes.

Option A, the progress review workshop, focuses on assessing current status, deliverables, and performance against plans or objectives. While it may highlight issues, it does not primarily aim to generate improvement actions. Option B, the project initiation workshop, occurs at the start of the project and establishes vision, scope, and approach, rather than extracting learning from experience. Option D, the team planning workshop, concentrates on selecting and organizing upcoming work, not on analyzing past performance or improving ways of working.

Agile Foundation documents emphasize that retrospectives are essential for embedding a culture of learning and adaptability. By regularly extracting actionable insights, teams can continuously refine their processes, strengthen collaboration, and improve quality and delivery speed. Retrospectives also support psychological safety by creating a structured space for honest discussion and shared ownership of improvement. This focus on turning reflection into action ensures that learning is applied, not just observed, making the project retrospective workshop the primary mechanism for driving improvement across future iterations.

NEW QUESTION # 163

How does PRINCE2 Agile describe Scrum?

- A. Scrum is an IT method
- B. Scrum is agile and agile is Scrum
- C. Scrum is the most well-known agile framework
- D. Scrum is a project management framework

Answer: C

NEW QUESTION # 164

In which process should the requirements for delivery of specialist products be agreed?

- A. Managing product delivery
- B. Initiating a project
- C. Managing a stage boundary
- D. Starting up a project

Answer: A

Explanation:

The Managing Product Delivery process includes agreeing on and controlling the requirements for the delivery of specialist products. This process ensures that team managers understand the scope and quality expectations before work begins and that delivery aligns with the project plan.

Initiating a project and starting up a project establish overall direction but do not handle detailed delivery requirements. Managing a stage boundary reviews progress and plans the next stage.

This process maintains clarity and accountability for delivery within PRINCE2's framework, facilitating effective control over specialist products.
