NEW QUESTION # 68

You want to add a comment to March 2020 as shown in the following visualization.

You have the following sets in a Tableau workbook

* Top N Customers

* Customers of 2020

* Top N Products

* Sellers of 2020

Which two sets can you combine? Choose two

- A. Customers of 2020
- B. Top N Products
- C. Top N Customers
- D. Sellers of 2020

Answer: A,C

Explanation:

To combine two sets, they must have at least one dimension in common. In this case, Customers of 2020 and Top N Customers both have Customer Name as a dimension, so they can be combined using set operations such as union, intersection, or difference. Sellers of 2020 and Top N Products have different dimensions (Seller Name and Product Name), so they cannot be combined.

</pro/desktop/en-us/sets.htm> https://help.tableau.com/current/pro/desktop/en-us/sets\_create.htm#combine-sets In Tableau, sets can be combined if they are created from the same dimension. From the options provided,

"Customers of 2020" and "Top N Customers" are likely created from the same dimension (Customers).

Therefore, these two sets can be combined to create a new set that includes or excludes members based on the combined criteria.

Combining sets like "Top N Products" with "Customers of 2020" would not be feasible unless they are from the same dimension, which is typically not the case.
