Which of the following stages is immediately after problem-finding in Isaksen and Treffinger's creative problem-solving model?

- A. Idea-finding.
- B. Data-finding.
- C. Acceptance-finding.
- D. Solution-finding.

Answer: A

NEW QUESTION # 77
What are business case development, subject matter expertise and procurement all examples of?

- A. Behavioural skill competencies required by business analysts.
- B. Personal knowledge competencies required by business analysts.
- C. Technique competencies required by business analysts.
- D. Business knowledge competencies required by business analysts.

Answer: D

NEW QUESTION # 78
What is the business analyst doing when he or she compares the BAM with the current business situation?

- A. Conceptual modelling.
- B. Analysing perspective
- C. Defining CATVVOE.
- D. Gap analysis

Answer: D

NEW QUESTION # 79
Which of the following investigation techniques allows the analyst to build rapport, discuss confidential issues and obtain an appreciation of the political landscape of how the business operates?

- A. Document analysis
- B. Interviews
- C. Special purpose records
- D. Questionnaire

Answer: B

Explanation:
The investigation technique best suited to achieve these outcomes is the Interview. A one-on-one interview provides a private and focused setting, which is essential for discussing confidential or politically sensitive issues that a stakeholder would not be comfortable raising in a group or on a written questionnaire. The personal interaction during an interview is the most effective way to build rapport with the stakeholder, leading to more open and honest communication. This deeper level of trust and detailed conversation is what allows the analyst to gain a richer appreciation of the political and cultural landscape of the business. Special purpose records, document analysis, and questionnaires are more impersonal and cannot provide the same level of qualitative insight or trust.
