NEW QUESTION # 45

How can collected data in network assurance be used to diagnose VPN gateway issues?

- A. By monitoring real-time traffic
- B. By detecting connection failures
- C. By identifying latency spikes
- D. By analyzing server logs

Answer: B

Explanation:

Collected data can be used to diagnose VPN gateway issues by detecting connection failures and analyzing VPN tunnel performance in network assurance.

NEW QUESTION # 46

Which Thousand Eyes test is specifically designed to assess the performance of voice communication?

- A. Web test
- B. DNS test
- C. Network test
- D. Voice test

Answer: D

Explanation:

The Voice test in Thousand Eyes is specifically designed to assess the performance of voice communication, identifying issues such as latency and jitter in network assurance.

NEW QUESTION # 47

In the IT operations dashboard, what is the alert trigger reason?

- A. Page Load Packet Loss
- B. Network packet loss
- C. Network jitter
- D. Page Load Latency

Answer: B

Explanation:

Detailed Explanation:

The IT Operations Dashboard includes a section at the beginning that explicitly displays active alert rules and their status. According to the dashboard configuration, the reason for the current alert trigger is Network packet loss. This indicates that the underlying network path for the application is experiencing packet drops exceeding the defined threshold, even if the application layer remains partially functional.

NEW QUESTION # 48

In deploying endpoint agents on Room OS devices, what unique challenge must be considered?

- A. Limited user interface options
- B. Integration with mobile devices
- C. Compatibility with video conferencing software
- D. High availability requirements

Answer: A

NEW QUESTION # 49

You want to create an endpoint label that automatically includes all Endpoint Agents connected to your corporate network. If your agents are named using the format agentname-network, what filter would you use in the hostname field to achieve this?

- A. agent*corporate
- B. There is no wildcard configuration available
- C. agentname-
- D. -corporate

Answer: D

Explanation:

In the Designing and Implementing Enterprise Network Assurance (300-445 ENNA) framework, managing a large-scale deployment of Endpoint Agents requires efficient categorization through Agent Labels.

Agent labels are used to group agents for targeted test assignment and data filtering based on specific attributes like location, OS, or naming conventions.

ThousandEyes supports the use of wildcards (specifically the * symbol) within label filters to allow for dynamic and scalable grouping. In this scenario, the organization has adopted a naming convention of agentname-network. To capture all agents connected to the "corporate" network regardless of the unique agentname prefix, the engineer should use the filter*-corporate (Option A) in the hostname or agent name field. The asterisk functions as a placeholder for any string of characters, ensuring that any agent ending with "-corporate" is automatically added to the label as soon as it registers with the ThousandEyes platform.

Other options are incorrect for the following reasons:

* agentname-* (Option B): This would only match agents that literally start with the string "agentname-", which is a placeholder and not a representative filter for a group of uniquely named agents.

* agent*corporate (Option C): This filter is overly broad and lacks the specific hyphen delimiter used in the organization's naming convention, potentially leading to the inclusion of unintended agents.

* No wildcard (Option D): Wildcards are a documented and essential feature of the ThousandEyes label system to facilitate automated management in enterprise environments.

By implementing wildcard-based labels, the network administrator ensures that new agents are seamlessly integrated into the assurance strategy without the need for manual intervention.
