NEW QUESTION # 25

What will affect the level of risk mitigation achieved in RBI?

- A. The quality of the inspection data and the analysis or interpretation of that data
- B. The established frequency of inspection for higher risk equipment
- C. Replacement of equipment instead of continuing to inspect it after half-life is attained
- D. Upgrading the metallurgy of equipment to higher alloys which are more corrosion resistant

Answer: A

Explanation:
According to API 580 Section 12.1:
"Risk mitigation (by the reduction in uncertainty) achieved through inspection presumes that the organization will act on the results of the inspection in a timely manner. The quality of the inspection data and the analysis or interpretation will greatly affect the level of risk mitigation." Thus, inspection data quality and its correct analysis are directly linked to effective risk reduction.
