NEW QUESTION # 24

What is true about mapping custom fields from Cart to Order Summary?

- A. All data types are supported for custom fields to be mapped from Cart to Order.
- B. A custom field must exist in the Cart and Order Summary objects only to be mapped successfully.
- C. There is a limit of 25 custom fields on a Cart that can be mapped to Order.
- D. The automatic Cart to Order mapping of custom fields can be disabled.

Answer: B

Explanation:

The correct answer for what is true about mapping custom fields from Cart to Order Summary is that the automatic Cart to Order mapping of custom fields can be disabled. A custom field is a field that is added by a developer or an administrator to an object to store additional information or data. A Cart is an object that represents a collection of products and charges that a customer intends to purchase in the storefront. An Order Summary is an object that represents a confirmed purchase of products and charges by a customer in the storefront. A Cart can be converted to an Order Summary when the customer completes the checkout process and confirms their order. By default, Salesforce B2B Commerce automatically maps custom fields from Cart to Order Summary when converting a Cart to an Order Summary. This means that any custom fields that exist on both Cart and Order Summary objects with identical API names and data types will have their values copied from Cart to Order Summary during the conversion. The automatic Cart to Order mapping of custom fields can be disabled by setting the B2BCommerce.CartToOrderMappingEnabled custom setting to false.

This will prevent any custom fields from being copied from Cart to Order Summary during the conversion. A custom field must exist in the Cart and Order Summary objects only to be mapped successfully is not true, as it is not the only requirement for mapping custom fields from Cart to Order Summary. The custom fields must also have identical API names and data types, and the automatic Cart to Order mapping of custom fields must be enabled. All data types are supported for custom fields to be mapped from Cart to Order is not true, as some data types are not supported for mapping custom fields from Cart to Order Summary. The supported data types are Boolean, Date, DateTime, Double, Integer, Long, Percent, String, and TextArea. There is a limit of 25 custom fields on a Cart that can be mapped to Order is not true, as there is no such limit for mapping custom fields from Cart to Order Summary. Any number of custom fields that meet the mapping requirements can be mapped from Cart to Order Summary. NEW QUESTION # 25

Which tool should a developer use to author automated tests for custom Lightning web components?

- A. Salesforce Developer Console
- B. Jest

- C. Salesforce CLI
- D. Visual Studio Code

Answer: B

Explanation:

A developer should use Jest to author automated tests for custom Lightning web components. Jest is a powerful tool with rich features for writing JavaScript tests. It is the recommended testing framework for Lightning web components by Salesforce¹. Jest allows the developer to write unit tests in local JavaScript files, run them from the command line or Visual Studio Code, and debug them using breakpoints and watch expressions². Jest also provides features such as mocking, code coverage, snapshots, and asynchronous testing³.

Option A, Option B, and Option D are incorrect because they are not testing tools, but rather development tools. Visual Studio Code is an integrated development environment (IDE) that supports Lightning web components development with extensions and plugins⁴. Salesforce CLI is a command line interface that allows the developer to create, deploy, and manage Lightning web components projects⁵. Salesforce Developer Console is a web-based tool that provides code editing, debugging, and testing features for Apex and Visualforce, but not for Lightning web components. References:

NEW QUESTION # 26

Numerous flags when set, have a direct impact on the result set provided by the Global API's. Which conversion flag allows for sObjects to be returned from the Global API's when provided as a Boolean parameter with a value of true?

- A. ccrz.ccAPISizing.SOBJECT
- B. ccrz.ccAPI.SZ_SKIPTRZ
- C. ccrz.ccAPI.SZ_SOBJECT
- D. ccrz.ccAPISizing.SKIPTRZ

Answer: C

Explanation:

The conversion flag that allows for sObjects to be returned from the Global API's when provided as a Boolean parameter with a value of true is ccrz.ccAPI.SZ_SOBJECT. This flag indicates that the API should return the raw sObjects instead of the transformed objects that are usually returned by the API. For example, ccrz.ccServiceProduct.getProducts(ccrz.ccAPI.SZ_SOBJECT,true) will return the Product2 sObjects instead of the ccrz__E_Product__c objects. NEW QUESTION # 27

A user wants to leverage a three column layout on a page. The user also wants to move the mini-cart widget from the right to the center column. How can this requirement be fulfilled?

- A. Subscriber Template
- B. Page Include
- C. Gross Layout Override
- D. HandleBar Template Override

Answer: C

Explanation:

Explanation

To leverage a three column layout on a page and move the mini-cart widget from the right to the center column, the requirement can be fulfilled by creating a Gross Layout Override. This is a custom Visualforce page that overrides the default layout of a page and allows changing its structure and content. The user can create a Gross Layout Override that uses a three column layout and places the mini-cart widget in the center column.
