Splunk Enterprise Certified Admin Sample Questions (Q52-Q57):

NEW QUESTION # 52

When working with an indexer cluster, what changes with the global precedence when comparing to a standalone deployment?

- A. The system default directory' becomes the highest priority.
- B. Nothing changes.
- C. The app local directories move to second in the priority list.
- D. The peer-apps local directory becomes the highest priority.

Answer: C

Explanation:

The app local directories move to second in the priority list. This is explained in the Splunk documentation, which states:

In a clustered environment, the precedence of configuration files changes slightly from that of a standalone deployment. The app local directories move to second in the priority list, after the peer-apps local directory.

This means that any configuration files in the app local directories on the individual peers are overridden by configuration files of the same name and type in the peer-apps local directory on the master node.

NEW QUESTION # 53

What is the name of the object that stores events inside of an index?

- A. Indexer
- B. Bucket
- C. Container
- D. Data layer

Answer: B

Explanation:

A bucket is the object that stores events inside of an index. According to the Splunk documentation¹, "An index is a collection of directories, also called buckets, that contain index files. Each bucket represents a specific time range." A bucket can be in one of several states, such as hot, warm, cold, frozen, or thawed¹. Buckets are managed by indexers or clusters of indexers¹.

NEW QUESTION # 54

Local user accounts created in Splunk store passwords in which file?

- B. $ SFLUNK_HOME/etc/authentication

- C. $ SFLUNK_HOME/etc/passwd
- D. $ S?LUNK_HOME/etc/users/passwd.conf

Answer: C

"To set the default username and password, place user-seed.conf in $SPLUNK_HOME/etc/system/local. You must restart Splunk to enable configurations. If the $SPLUNK_HOME/etc/passwd file is present, the settings in this file (user-seed.conf) are not used."

NEW QUESTION # 55

A new forwarder has been installed with a manually created deploymentclient.conf.

What is the next step to enable the communication between the forwarder and the deployment server?

- A. Wait for up to the time set in the phoneHomeIntervallnSecs setting.
- B. Enable the deployment client in Splunk Web under Forwarder Management.
- C. Restart Splunk on the deployment server.
- D. Restart Splunk on the deployment client.

Answer: C

NEW QUESTION # 56

When deploying apps on Universal Forwarders using the deployment server, what is the correct component and location of the app before it is deployed?

- A. On Deployment Server, $SPLUNK_HOME/etc/deployment-apps
- B. On Universal Forwarder, $SPLUNK_HOME/etc/apps
- C. On Deployment Server, $SPLUNK_HOME/etc/apps
- D. On Universal Forwarder, $SPLUNK_HOME/etc/deployment-apps

Answer: A

Explanation:

The correct answer is C. On Deployment Server, $SPLUNK_HOME/etc/deployment-apps.

A deployment server is a Splunk Enterprise instance that acts as a centralized configuration manager for any number of other instances, called "deployment clients". A deployment client can be a universal forwarder, a non-clustered indexer, or a search head¹. A deployment app is a directory that contains any content that you want to download to a set of deployment clients. The content can include a Splunk Enterprise app, a set of Splunk Enterprise configurations, or other content, such as scripts, images, and supporting files².

You create a deployment app by creating a directory for it on the deployment server. The default location is $SPLUNK_HOME/etc/deployment-apps, but this is configurable through the repositoryLocation attribute in serverclass.conf. Underneath this location, each app must have its own subdirectory. The name of the subdirectory serves as the app name in the forwarder management interface².

The other options are incorrect because:

- A) On Universal Forwarder, $SPLUNK_HOME/etc/apps. This is the location where the deployment app resides after it is downloaded from the deployment server to the universal forwarder. It is not the location of the app before it is deployed².
- B) On Deployment Server, $SPLUNK_HOME/etc/apps. This is the location where the apps that are specific to the deployment server itself reside. It is not the location where the deployment apps for the clients are stored².
- D) On Universal Forwarder, $SPLUNK_HOME/etc/deployment-apps. This is not a valid location for any app on a universal forwarder. The universal forwarder does not act as a deployment server and does not store deployment apps³.
