Product: The University of Trinidad and Tobago (UTT) promotional and dissemination materials for advertising on any/all print and electronic media as well as for usage on the University's websites or designate.

I permit the Photographer/Publisher and its licensees, or assigns, to use the photograph(s) and/or drawings from and any other reproductions or adaptations thereof, either complete or in part, alone or in conjunction with any wording and/or drawings for all advertising and/or publicity and/or editorial purposes in connection with the above product or service in Trinidad and Tobago and/or any other country overseas.

Unless otherwise agreed, the photograph(s) and any drawings or adaptations thereof shall be deemed to represent an imaginary person.

I understand that I do not own the copyright in the photograph(s).

I confirm that I am over sixteen (16) years of age.

Intellectual Policy

As stated in UTT's Intellectual Property Policy, I understand that:

- Subject to exemptions state in the Policy, the University claims ownership of all intellectual property, regardless of where or when conceived, which is devised, made or created.
 - This holds for persons employed by the University in the course of their employment (including full and part-time faculty, visiting faculty members and researchers, and student employees);
 - By persons engaged in sponsored research projects at the University or those engaged by the University under research contracts for services during the course of or incidentally to that engagement; and
 - By persons specifically commissioned by the University to create or produce the specified IP or innovative technology.

- Intellectual Property created by a student shall remain vested in the student unless:
 - It is created in the course of student's engagement by UTT as a Research Assistant (whether paid by stipend or salary); or

- It is created in the execution of any research work which is fully sponsored by UTT or by any third party, governed by a research agreement.
- UTT shall be entitled to and students shall grant royalty-free, fully paid-up, perpetual license to use for non-commercial purposes copies of theses, dissertations and other scholarly publications.

I have read the above and agree to the terms therein.
