CompTIA A+ Certification Exam: Core 1 Sample Questions (Q523-Q528):

NEW QUESTION # 523

A client wants to connect an external keyboard to an Android tablet. Which of the following connection types are appropriate for this task? (Select TWO).

- A. Lightning

- B. Bluetooth
- C. USB-C
- D. PS/2
- E. Infrared
- F. DVI

Answer: C,F

NEW QUESTION # 524

A customer's Windows tablet PC was dropped and is no longer responding to touch input on the left half of the screen. The screen protector has several scratches, but the glass is not broken. Which of the following should a technician do to diagnose the issue?

- A. Test the digitizer
- B. Perform a factory reset.
- C. Update the device drivers.
- D. Replace the damaged screen protector

Answer: A

Explanation:

The digitizer is the component that converts the touch input into electrical signals that are processed by the tablet. If the digitizer is damaged or malfunctioning, it may not register the touch input correctly or at all. The technician can test the digitizer using a diagnostic tool or by replacing it with a known good one. Updating the device drivers, replacing the damaged screen protector, or performing a factory reset are unlikely to fix the issue, as they do not address the hardware problem.

NEW QUESTION # 525

A user attempted to install an application on a desktop, and the installation attempt failed. A technician compares these installation files to those on another user's machine and finds the files are different. Which of the following should the technician do NEXT?

- A. Determine the source of the installation file.
- B. Complete the final report.
- C. Verify the system functionality.
- D. Attempt to reinstall the application.
- E. Test the functionality of the antivirus.

Answer: D

NEW QUESTION # 526

A company gives users microSD cards to install on smartphones so users can store pictures that will be used on the website. After installing the cards, users report only being able to save a small number of pictures on the microSD cards before running out of space. Which of the following is the most likely issue?

- A. The microSD cards were not properly formatted before being installed.
- B. The microSD cards are not capable of UHD storage.
- C. The microSD cards were not selected for camera storage.
- D. The microSD cards are not compatible with the smartphones.

Answer: A

Explanation:

If users are only able to save a small number of pictures on the microSD cards before running out of space, it suggests a formatting issue. Improper or incomplete formatting can lead to the card not utilizing its full storage capacity, resulting in significantly less available space for storing pictures. Formatting the microSD cards correctly would ensure the file system on the cards is set up properly, allowing the devices to use the full capacity of the cards for storage. Compatibility, UHD storage capability, and camera storage settings are less likely to be the issue in this scenario.

NEW QUESTION # 527

A technician is diagnosing a workstation that shuts down unexpectedly during a burn-in test. Which of the following is the MOST likely cause for this symptom?

- A. OS update issue
- B. Faulty CMOS battery
- C. Faulty RAM
- D. Overheating

Answer: D

Explanation:

Explanation

If a workstation shuts down unexpectedly during a burn-in test, overheating is the most likely cause. This is because a burn-in test is designed to stress the components of the workstation, which can generate a lot of heat. Therefore, overheating is the correct answer.
