EC-COUNCIL EC-Council Certified CISO (CCISO) Sample Questions (Q529-Q534):

NEW QUESTION # 529

A CISO sees abnormally high volumes of exceptions to security requirements and constant pressure from business units to change security processes. Which of the following represents the MOST LIKELY cause of this situation?

- A. A lack of executive presence within the security program
- B. Poor audit support for the security program
- C. Poor alignment of the security program to business needs
- D. This is normal since business units typically resist security requirements

Answer: C

Explanation:

Alignment with Business Needs:

A security program that fails to align with organizational goals often faces resistance, resulting in exceptions and pressure to modify processes.

Key Indicators:

- * Frequent exceptions indicate a disconnect between security policies and business operations.
- * Alignment ensures that security is seen as an enabler, not a hindrance, to business objectives.

Why Not Other Options:

- * Poor audit support (A) is unrelated to the root cause of pressure for changes.
- * Lack of executive presence (B) affects leadership but not directly alignment issues.
- * Resistance from business units (D) is not normal; it suggests misalignment.

EC-Council Emphasis:

Aligning security programs with business needs is essential for reducing friction and fostering collaboration.

NEW QUESTION # 530

Which of the following has the PRIMARY responsibility for determining access rights requirements to information?

- A. Chief Information Security Officer (CISO)
- B. Chief Information Officer (CIO)
- C. Database engineer
- D. Data owner

Answer: D

Explanation:

Comprehensive and Detailed Explanation (250-350 words) From Exact Extract from Chief Information Security Officer (CCISO) Documents:

According to the EC-Council CCISO Body of Knowledge, the data owner holds the primary responsibility for determining access rights requirements to information. CCISO guidance defines the data owner as the individual or role accountable for the classification, protection, and authorized use of specific data sets.

The data owner determines who should have access, what level of access is appropriate, and under what conditions access may be granted or revoked. This responsibility is based on business context, regulatory obligations, and risk considerations.

The CIO, CISO, and database engineers play supporting roles. The CIO oversees IT strategy, the CISO establishes security policies and controls, and database engineers implement access controls-but none of these roles define business-driven access requirements.

CCISO materials stress that access control decisions must be business-owned, not purely technical. This ensures accountability and alignment with organizational objectives.

Therefore, the correct and CCISO-validated answer is Data owner.

NEW QUESTION # 531

Scenario: Your program is developed around minimizing risk to information by focusing on people, technology, and operations. You have decided to deal with risk to information from people first.

How can you minimize risk to your most sensitive information before granting access?

- A. Develop an Information Security Awareness program
- B. Set your firewall permissions aggressively and monitor logs regularly.
- C. Monitor employee drowsing and surfing habits
- D. Conduct background checks on individuals before hiring them

Answer: D

NEW QUESTION # 532

- A. Firewalls, IPS, WAF
- B. MFA, IAM, Endpoint Security

- D. ACLs, secure gateways, IPS

Answer: B

NEW QUESTION # 533

- A. Corporate governance
- B. Risk Oversight
- C. Internal Audit
- D. Key Performance Indicators

Answer: A

Explanation:

Internal audit (A) and risk oversight (C) are components of governance, while key performance indicators (D) are metrics used for tracking objectives.
