Cisco Implementing Cisco Advanced Call Control and Mobility Services Sample Questions (Q210-Q215):

NEW QUESTION # 210

What is the relationship between partition, time schedule, and time period in Time-of-Day routing in Cisco Unified Communications

Manager?

- A. A partition can have one time schedule assigned. A time schedule contains one or more time periods.
- B. A partition can have multiple time schedules assigned. A time schedule contains one or more time periods.
- C. A partition can have one time schedule assigned. A time schedule contains only one time period.
- D. A partition can have multiple time schedules assigned. A time schedule contains only one time period.

Answer: A

Explanation:

As mentioned earlier, partitions allow you to assign a time schedule to a partition. A time schedule contains a list of time periods. The time schedule can include more than one time period. For example, you might create a time period for each holiday and then create a time schedule named Holidays that includes all the holiday time periods.
