CompTIA Data+ Certification Exam Sample Questions (Q322-Q327):

NEW QUESTION # 322

Given the following report:

Which of the following components need to be added to ensure the report is point-in-time and static? (Choose two.)

- A. A summary of the KPIs
- B. The time period the report covers
- C. The date when the report was last accessed
- D. Filter buttons for the status
- E. A control group for the phrases
- F. The date on which the report was run

Answer: B,D

NEW QUESTION # 323

Which of the following data cleansing issues will be fixed when a DISTINCT function is applied?

- A. Duplicate data
- B. Redundant data
- C. Invalid data
- D. Missing data

Answer: A

Explanation:

This is because duplicate data refers to data that is repeated or copied in a data set, which can affect the quality and validity of the analysis. A DISTINCT function is a type of function that removes duplicate values from a column or a table, leaving only unique values. For example, a DISTINCT function in SQL that can achieve this is:

The other data cleansing issues will not be fixed by applying a DISTINCT function. Here is why:

Missing data refers to data that is absent or incomplete in a data set, which can affect the accuracy and reliability of the analysis. A DISTINCT function does not help with missing data, because it does not fill in or impute the missing values.

Redundant data refers to data that is unnecessary or irrelevant for the analysis, which can affect the efficiency and performance of the analysis. A DISTINCT function does not help with redundant data, because it does not remove or filter out the redundant values.

Invalid data refers to data that is incorrect or inaccurate in a data set, which can affect the validity and reliability of the analysis. A DISTINCT function does not help with invalid data, because it does not validate or correct the invalid values.

NEW QUESTION # 324

An analyst conducted a preliminary analysis for a data set and identified several patterns and anomalies. Which of the following analysis techniques did the analyst use?

- A. Exploratory analysis
- B. Link analysis
- C. Trend analysis
- D. Performance analysis

Answer: A

Explanation:

Comprehensive and Detailed In-Depth

Exploratory Data Analysis (EDA) is an approach used by analysts to analyze data sets to summarize their main characteristics, often employing visual methods. The primary goal of EDA is to discover patterns, spot anomalies, test hypotheses, and check assumptions through statistical graphics and other data visualization tools.

Option A: Performance analysis

Rationale: Performance analysis focuses on assessing the efficiency and effectiveness of a system, process, or individual. It involves measuring key performance indicators (KPIs) to determine how well objectives are being met. This type of analysis is not primarily concerned with identifying patterns or anomalies in data sets.

Option B: Exploratory analysis
