* This aligns with continuous process improvement practices.

* Evaluation of Options:

* A(Everyone shakes hands) is trivial and not a core activity.

* B(Reviewing data collection methods) may be part of broader discussions but is not the primary focus.

* C is correct because it directly reflects retrospective goals.

- A. Test project closure
- B. Test implementation & execution

Answer: A

Topic 9, Scenario 9 "Test Management Documentation"

A software house is concerned about the number of defects found in software released to its customers. They are starting to plan a new software product. In the past, releases have often been stopped due to poor planning and too many defects found during high level testing. You have been recruited to the newly created position of test manager and asked to develop a test strategy, manage the testing of the project and organize the resources needed to carry out the testing.

NEW QUESTION # 111

You are the Test Manager for a critical system and are using a risk-based approach for this project. Which of the following would most clearly convey the current status to project stakeholders? [3]

- A. A Pareto graph showing requirements coverage
- B. A scatter chart showing test execution status
- C. A pie chart showing residual risk
- D. A bar graph showing defect density

Answer: C

Explanation:

The most clear way to convey the current status to project stakeholders is to use a pie chart showing residual risk. This is because a risk-based approach focuses on identifying, analyzing, and prioritizing the risks that may affect the quality of the system, and allocating testing resources accordingly. A pie chart can visually represent the proportion of each risk category (such as high, medium, or low) in the overall risk profile, and show how much risk has been reduced or remains after testing. This can help the stakeholders to understand the current level of confidence in the system, and the potential impact of any remaining risks.
