ServiceNow Certified Technical Architect (CTA) Sample Questions (Q19-Q24):

NEW QUESTION # 19

Which data types are considered part of Master/Core Data in ServiceNow?
Choose 3 answers

- A. Approval Policies
- B. Transaction logs
- C. CMDB data
- D. Service model data
- E. User information

Answer: A,C,E

Explanation:

Master/Core data in ServiceNow refers to the foundational data that is essential for the platform's operation and various applications. This includes:

A: Approval Policies: These define the rules and workflows for approvals within the platform, impacting various processes.

C: CMDB data: The Configuration Management Database (CMDB) contains critical information about IT assets, services, and their relationships.

E: User information: Data about users, their roles, and their permissions is crucial for access control and security.

Why not the other options?

B: Transaction logs: These are operational data that record system activities, not core master data.

D: Service model data: While important, service model data is typically built upon the foundation of master data like the CMDB and user information.

NEW QUESTION # 20

What are included in the domains of technical architecture in ServiceNow?
Choose 3 answers

- A. Risk Management
- B. Data Management
- C. Environment Management
- D. Security Management
- E. App Dev Management

Answer: B,C,D

Explanation:

The domains of technical architecture in ServiceNow encompass the key areas that ensure the platform's stability, security, and scalability. These include:

B: Security Management: This domain focuses on securing the ServiceNow instance, including access control, authentication, data encryption, and vulnerability management.

C: Environment Management: This domain deals with the management of the ServiceNow instances, including instance strategy, upgrades, patching, and performance monitoring.

D: Data Management: This domain covers aspects of data governance, data quality, data integration, and data security within the ServiceNow platform.

Why not the other options?

A: Risk Management: While important, risk management is a broader organizational concern that extends beyond technical architecture.

E: App Dev Management: Application development management is a specific area within the broader technical architecture, focusing on the development and deployment of applications on the platform.

NEW QUESTION # 21

When advising on release and instance management, what should be considered as key governance factors?

Choose 3 answers

- A. Release performance and instance usage analytics
- B. Operating model and development approach
- C. Day-to-day instance performance metrics
- D. Number and purpose of instance environments
- E. Platform scope and deployed applications

Answer: B,D,E

Explanation:

Key governance factors for release and instance management include:

B: Operating model and development approach: Define the organization's approach to development (e.g., Agile, Waterfall), release cycles, and how different teams collaborate on the platform.

C: Platform scope and deployed applications: Clearly define the scope of the ServiceNow platform within the organization and the applications that will be deployed. This helps with planning and resource allocation.

E: Number and purpose of instance environments: Establish a clear instance strategy, including the number of instances (dev, test, prod, etc.), their purpose, and how they are used to support development and deployment processes.

Why not the other options?

A: Release performance and instance usage analytics: While these are important for monitoring and optimization, they are not primary governance factors.

D: Day-to-day instance performance metrics: These are operational metrics, not directly related to governance decisions.

NEW QUESTION # 22

Which encryption solution would ensure that customer credit card numbers were encrypted before being stored in the cloud and would allow for easy administration of encryption keys?

- A. Server-side Encryption
- B. Edge Encryption
- C. Client-side Encryption
- D. Database Encryption

Answer: C

NEW QUESTION # 23

A new project request requires quick implementation but involves portfolio realignment. As an IT leader, who should you consult to prioritize this demand?

- A. Executive Steering Board
- B. Technical Governance Board
- C. Program Steering Committee
- D. Demand Board

Answer: A

Explanation:

In this scenario, the Executive Steering Board is the most appropriate group to consult. Here's why:

Portfolio Realignment: This implies significant changes to the overall IT portfolio, which falls under the purview of the Executive Steering Board. They have the authority to make strategic decisions about the IT portfolio and prioritize initiatives based on business goals and overall impact.

Why not the other options?

A: Demand Board: The Demand Board typically focuses on evaluating and prioritizing individual demands or requests, but they may not have the authority to make decisions about portfolio realignment.

C: Program Steering Committee: This committee focuses on the governance and oversight of specific programs, not on overall portfolio strategy.

D: Technical Governance Board: This board focuses on technical standards, architecture, and security, not on strategic portfolio decisions.
