Juniper Automation and DevOps, Associate (JNCIA-DevOps) Sample Questions (Q43-Q48):

NEW QUESTION # 43

Which two data structures are used in JSON? (Choose two.)

- A. tuples
- B. arrays
- C. dictionaries
- D. objects

Answer: B,D

Explanation:

In JSON (JavaScript Object Notation), the two primary data structures are:

Objects: These are collections of key-value pairs, where each key is a string, and the value can be a string, number, array, boolean, or another object. In Python, this structure is analogous to a dictionary.

Arrays: These are ordered lists of values, where each value can be of any data type, including another array or object. In Python, this structure is similar to a list.

Option A (tuples) and Option D (dictionaries) refer to Python-specific data structures and are not directly used in JSON.

Supporting Reference:

JSON Documentation and Tutorials: JSON objects and arrays are the standard data structures used in this format, as described in many tutorials and the official JSON documentation.

NEW QUESTION # 44

What is the default port for NETCONF connections over SSH?

- A. 0
- B. 1
- C. 2
- D. 3

Answer: D

Explanation:

<https://www.juniper.net/documentation/us/en/software/junos/netconf/topics/topic-map/netconf-ssh-connection.html> The IANA-assigned port for NETCONF-over-SSH sessions is 830.

NEW QUESTION # 45

Which two statements are correct about a Python dictionary data type? (Choose two.)

- A. The data contained in a dictionary data type is a key/value pair.
- B. The data contained in a dictionary data type cannot be removed once the dictionary has been created.
- C. The data stored in a dictionary data type is sequenced and indexed.
- D. The data stored in a dictionary data type is not sequenced or indexed.

Answer: A,D

Explanation:

A Python dictionary is a data type that stores data in the form of key/value pairs. It has the following characteristics:

Key/Value Pair (C): Each entry in a dictionary is a pair consisting of a unique key and a value. The key is used to access the corresponding value.

Not Sequenced or Indexed (D): Unlike lists or tuples, dictionaries do not maintain order for their entries (in versions prior to Python 3.7). Even though Python 3.7+ maintains insertion order, dictionaries are not considered indexed or sequenced in the traditional sense like lists, where elements are accessed via positional index.

Option A is incorrect because dictionary entries can be added, modified, or removed after the dictionary is created. Option B is incorrect because dictionaries are not accessed by a numeric index but rather by their keys.

Reference:

Python Official Documentation: Details the nature of dictionaries, including their mutability and key/value structure.

Python Data Structures Guide: Explains dictionary operations and characteristics.

NEW QUESTION # 46

Which two statements are valid regarding Junos automation? (Choose two.)

- A. The mod process handles XML API calls.
- B. The mgd process handles JET API requests.
- C. The jsd process handles XML API calls.
- D. The jsd process handles JET API requests.

Answer: C,D

Explanation:

In Junos automation, several processes handle API requests, and understanding which process handles what is crucial:

jsd Process:

XML API Calls (A): The jsd process is responsible for handling XML API calls, which are a significant part of Junos automation. XML API allows for structured and standardized communication with Junos devices, enabling automation scripts to query and configure devices.

JET API Requests (C): The jsd process also handles JET (Junos Extension Toolkit) API requests. JET provides a more modern, programmable interface for interacting with Junos OS, and jsd is the process that manages these interactions.

mgd Process (Incorrect Option):

Not for JET API Requests: The mgd process handles general management operations, such as CLI commands and managing the configuration database, but it does not handle JET API requests. That role is fulfilled by jsd.

mod Process (Incorrect Option):

Not for XML API Calls: The mod process deals with managing chassis components and is not involved in handling XML API calls.

Reference:

Juniper Networks JET and XML API Documentation: Describes the roles of jsd in handling both XML and JET API requests.

Junos Automation and DevOps Documentation: Provides insights into how different processes interact with Junos APIs.
