Q139):

問題 #134

To deal with the lack of security, both government organizations have developed guidelines for protecting electric facilities and distribution systems. On the private side, the Edison Electric Institute developed guidelines that have been passed on to the North American Electric Reliability Council (NERC), the U.S.

Department of Energy's coordinator for the U.S. electrical infrastructure. Among other things the guide lines cover:

- A. Vulnerability/risk analysis
- B. Emergency detection
- C. Threat response
- D. Cyber scenario

答案: A,C

解題說明:

The Edison Electric Institute, in collaboration with the North American Electric Reliability Council (NERC) and the Department of Energy (DOE), developed security guidelines for the protection of the electrical grid.

One of the primary components of these guidelines is performing a vulnerability/risk analysis to identify potential weaknesses and assess the impact of threats to the infrastructure.

While threat response and cyber scenarios are part of broader planning, vulnerability/risk analysis is a foundational element.

Emergency detection is important but not a specifically highlighted part of the referenced guidelines.

問題 #135

Taking personal property in such a way that the plaintiff's use or right of possession of chattel is restricted is called:

- A. Restriction
- B. Constraint
- C. Transfer
- D. Conversion

答案: D

解題說明:

Conversion is a civil tort that occurs when one party wrongfully possesses or interferes with another's personal property (chattel) to the extent that the owner's use or rights are seriously restricted or denied. It's essentially a civil version of theft.

Restriction (A), Transfer (B), and Constraint (C) are not legally specific terms for this tort.

問題 #136

The individual who commits a tort is called a tort-feasor, where as the injured party is called the plaintiff.

- A. True
- B. False

答案: A

解題說明:

In tort law, the person who commits a tortious act is known as a tort-feasor or wrongdoer. The party who is harmed or injured by the act and brings the civil action is known as the plaintiff.

問題 #137

A security supervisor should do which of the following to reinforce training and understanding of the post orders with security officers?

- A. Review the log book entries
- B. Ask one or more specific questions about the order
- C. Check the training records
- D. Let the officer read the order and then write a report on it

答案: B

解題說明:

Asking targeted questions about post orders helps supervisors verify that security officers understand their duties. It encourages engagement, promotes accountability, and reinforces learning through direct interaction.

A (Checking training records) shows completion but not understanding.

B (Logbook review) focuses on past actions, not comprehension.

D (Written report) may test literacy more than actual understanding.

問題 #138

What are wide-beam units, primarily used to extend the illumination in long, horizontal strips to protect the approaches to the perimeter barrier?

- A. Fresnel Lenses
- B. Perimeter lighting
- C. Floodlights
- D. Search lights

答案: C

解題說明:

Floodlights are wide-beam lighting devices used to extend horizontal illumination across large areas, particularly along perimeter barriers. Their design makes them effective in lighting long stretches of fencing or property lines to deter and detect intruders. Unlike spotlights or search lights, floodlights disperse light broadly and evenly, reducing shadows and blind spots.

"Search lights" produce narrow beams for focused scanning.

"Perimeter lighting" is a general concept, not a specific lighting unit.

"Fresnel lenses" are components used in optics and are not lighting units.
