Psychiatric Rehabilitation Association Certified Psychiatric Rehabilitation Practitioner Sample Questions (Q104-Q109):

NEW QUESTION # 104

Wellness Recovery Action Plan (WRAP) is most useful for which of the following?

- A. Increasing adherence to treatment.
- B. Replacing advance directives.
- C. Providing tools to handle stress.
- D. Adapting 12-step programs to address symptoms.

Answer: C

Explanation:

The Wellness Recovery Action Plan (WRAP), developed by Mary Ellen Copeland, is a self-directed, recovery-oriented framework that empowers individuals to manage their mental health and wellness. The CPRP Exam Blueprint (Domain V: Strategies for Facilitating Recovery) highlights WRAP as a tool for developing self-management skills, particularly for managing stress and preventing crises (Task V.B.2:

"Facilitate the development of self-management skills"). Option B (providing tools to handle stress) aligns with WRAP's core components, which include identifying triggers, creating a wellness toolkit (e.g., coping strategies like mindfulness or exercise), and developing action plans to manage stress and symptoms effectively.

Option A (adapting 12-step programs) is incorrect, as WRAP is a distinct, personalized recovery model, not an adaptation of 12-step programs, which focus on addiction recovery. Option C (increasing adherence to treatment) may be an indirect benefit but is not WRAP's primary purpose, which emphasizes self-empowerment over compliance. Option D (replacing advance directives) is incorrect, as WRAP complements, but does not replace, legal documents like advance directives, which are addressed separately (Task V.C.3).

The PRA Study Guide emphasizes WRAP's role in fostering resilience and stress management, supporting Option B.

NEW QUESTION # 105

Which of the following factors BEST contributes to wellness among individuals with psychiatric disabilities?

- A. Symptom self-management.
- B. Utilizing natural supports and alternative healing programs.
- C. A self-defined balance of healthy habits and behaviors.
- D. Regular visits to medical specialists.

Answer: C

Explanation:

Wellness in psychiatric rehabilitation is a holistic, person-centered concept that encompasses physical, emotional, and social well-being, driven by individual choice. The CPRP Exam Blueprint (Domain VII:

Supporting Health & Wellness) emphasizes empowering individuals to define and pursue their own wellness through balanced, healthy habits (Task VII.A.1: "Promote holistic wellness, including self-defined healthy habits and behaviors"). Option D (a self-defined balance of healthy habits and behaviors) aligns with this, as it reflects the individual's autonomy in choosing practices-such as exercise, nutrition, or social activities-that promote wellness tailored to their needs and preferences. Option A (symptom self-management) is important but narrower, focusing on clinical aspects rather than holistic wellness. Option B (natural supports and alternative healing) is a component but less comprehensive than self-defined habits, which encompass a broader range of wellness practices. Option C (regular visits to medical specialists) is a clinical intervention, not the primary driver of wellness, which prioritizes self- directed health. The PRA Study Guide, referencing SAMHSA's Eight Dimensions of Wellness, underscores self-defined healthy habits as central to wellness, supporting Option D.

NEW QUESTION # 106

A woman with a psychiatric disability attempts to rent an apartment. She completes the application and lists her income as disability benefits of $750 per month. She is turned down because of an "unstable income source." What is the best referral the practitioner can make to help her address this situation?

- A. Legal advocacy group
- B. Peer support organization
- C. Government benefits agency
- D. Family advocacy group

Answer: A

Explanation:

This question aligns with Domain III: Community Integration, which focuses on supporting individuals to access community resources, such as housing, and addressing barriers like discrimination. The CPRP Exam Blueprint emphasizes "advocating for fair housing practices and referring individuals to appropriate resources to address discrimination or barriers to community integration." The scenario involves potential discrimination based on the source of income (disability benefits), which violates fair housing laws in many jurisdictions.

* Option A: Referring the woman to a legal advocacy group is the best response, as it equips her to address potential discrimination under fair housing laws (e.g., the Fair Housing Act in the U.S., which prohibits discrimination based on disability or income source in some states). Legal advocacy groups can provide expertise to challenge the landlord's decision and secure housing access.

* Option B: A peer support organization may offer emotional support but lacks the legal expertise to address housing discrimination effectively.

* Option C: A family advocacy group may not be relevant unless family members are directly involved, and it does not address the legal issue of discrimination.

* Option D: A government benefits agency could clarify her benefits but does not address the landlord's discriminatory decision, which is the primary barrier.

Extract from CPRP Exam Blueprint (Domain III: Community Integration):

"Tasks include: 3. Supporting individuals in accessing housing and addressing barriers, such as discrimination. 4. Referring individuals to advocacy resources to ensure fair treatment in community settings."

NEW QUESTION # 107

Which of the following lists best reflects positive symptoms of schizophrenia?

- A. Hallucinations, anhedonia, poverty of speech, social withdrawal
- B. Disorganized thinking, social isolation, flat affect, disturbances of sleep
- C. Delusions, avolition, abnormal psychomotor activity, disturbances of sleep
- D. Disorganized speech, hallucinations, delusions, disorganized behavior

Answer: D

Explanation:

This question aligns with Domain I: Interpersonal Competencies, which requires understanding the symptoms of psychiatric conditions like schizophrenia to inform person-centered practice. The CPRP Exam Blueprint specifies that "positive symptoms of schizophrenia include hallucinations, delusions, disorganized speech, and disorganized behavior, which represent additions to normal functioning." Positive symptoms are distinguished from negative symptoms (e.g., anhedonia, avolition) and cognitive symptoms (e.g., disorganized thinking).

* Option A: This list accurately reflects positive symptoms: hallucinations (sensory experiences without stimuli), delusions (false beliefs), disorganized speech (incoherent communication), and disorganized behavior (erratic actions). These are hallmark positive symptoms of schizophrenia, per DSM-5 and CPRP study materials.

* Option B: Includes anhedonia, poverty of speech, and social withdrawal, which are negative symptoms, not positive, making it incorrect.

* Option C: Includes social isolation and flat affect (negative symptoms) and disturbances of sleep (not specific to positive symptoms), making it inaccurate.

* Option D: Includes avolition (a negative symptom) and disturbances of sleep (not specific), making it less accurate than Option A.

Extract from CPRP Exam Blueprint (Domain I: Interpersonal Competencies):

"Tasks include: 3. Understanding the symptoms of psychiatric conditions, including positive symptoms of schizophrenia (hallucinations, delusions, disorganized speech, and behavior), to support effective communication."

NEW QUESTION # 108

A 28-year-old individual has been living with his family for six years. The family told him that he must get a job or move out. The individual tells the practitioner that he does not want to move out and has applied for many jobs and has not been successful. What is the practitioner's next BEST step?

- A. Locate alternate housing in the community near his family
- B. Contact the local employment office for a job referral
- C. Help him to be his own advocate with the family
- D. Ask his peer support specialist for possible ideas

Answer: C

Explanation:

The individual's situation involves family pressure to secure employment to remain at home, coupled with unsuccessful job applications, indicating a need for empowerment and communication strategies. The CPRP Exam Blueprint (Domain V: Strategies for Facilitating Recovery) emphasizes supporting individuals in developing self-advocacy skills to navigate challenges and achieve recovery goals (Task V.B.3: "Support individuals in developing self-advocacy and communication skills"). Option D (help him to be his own advocate with the family) aligns with this, as it empowers the individual to communicate his efforts, needs, and goals to his family, potentially negotiating solutions (e.g., more time or support) while addressing the immediate pressure to move out.

Option A (contact the employment office) focuses on job search but does not address the urgent family dynamic. Option B (ask peer support specialist) may provide ideas but is less direct than building the individual's advocacy skills to resolve the family conflict. Option C (locate alternate housing) assumes moving out, contradicting the individual's stated goal to stay. The PRA Study Guide highlights self-advocacy as a key recovery strategy for managing family relationships, supporting Option D.
