CompTIA Data+ Certification Exam Sample Questions (Q258-Q263):

NEW QUESTION # 258
A data analyst has a set with more than 40.000 rows in the sample schema below:
The analyst would like to create one column that contains the customers' birth dates. Which of the following data quality dimensions would BEST explain the reason for compilation?

- A. Data accuracy
- B. Data duplication
- C. Data integrity
- D. Data completeness

Answer: C

Explanation:
Data integrity is the dimension that measures the consistency and validity of data across different data sources. In this case, the data analyst wants to create one column that contains the customers' birth dates, but the data is stored in different formats and locations in the sample schema. For example, some customers have their birth dates in the customer table, while others have their birth years in the sales table. To compile the data into one column, the data analyst needs to ensure that the data is consistent and valid across the tables.
Therefore, data integrity is the best explanation for the reason for compilation. References: Data Quality Dimensions - DATAVERSITY, The 6 Data Quality Dimensions with Examples | Collibra

NEW QUESTION # 259
Which of the following data cleansing issues will be fixed when a DISTINCT function is applied?

- A. Missing data
- B. Redundant data
- C. Duplicate data
- D. Invalid data

Answer: C

Explanation:
Explanation
This is because duplicate data refers to data that is repeated or copied in a data set, which can affect the quality and validity of the analysis. A DISTINCT function is a type of function that removes duplicate values from a column or a table, leaving only unique values. For example, a DISTINCT function in SQL that can achieve this is:
The other data cleansing issues will not be fixed by applying a DISTINCT function. Here is why:
Missing data refers to data that is absent or incomplete in a data set, which can affect the accuracy and reliability of the analysis. A DISTINCT function does not help with missing data, because it does not fill in or impute the missing values.
Redundant data refers to data that is unnecessary or irrelevant for the analysis, which can affect the efficiency and performance of the analysis. A DISTINCT function does not help with redundant data, because it does not remove or filter out the redundant values.
Invalid data refers to data that is incorrect or inaccurate in a data set, which can affect the validity and reliability of the analysis. A DISTINCT function does not help with invalid data, because it does not validate or correct the invalid values.

NEW QUESTION # 260
A JSON file is an example of:

- A. web data.
- B. processed data.
- C. structured data.
- D. machine data.

Answer: C

NEW QUESTION # 261
A database consists of one fact table that is composed of multiple dimensions. Depending on the dimension, each one can be represented by a denormalized table or multiple normalized tables. This structure is an example of a:

- A. non-relational schema.
- B. snowflake schema.
- C. star schema.
- D. transactional schema.

Answer: C

NEW QUESTION # 262
A data analyst must separate the column shown below into multiple columns for each component of the name:

Which of the following data manipulation techniques should the analyst perform?

- A. Transposing
- B. Concatenating
- C. Imputing
- D. Parsing

Answer: D

Explanation:
Parsing is the data manipulation technique that should be used to separate the column into multiple columns for each component of the name. Parsing is the process of breaking down a string of text into smaller units, such as words, symbols, or numbers. Parsing can be used to extract specific information from a text column, such as names, addresses, phone numbers, etc. Parsing can also be used to split a text column into multiple columns based on a delimiter, such as a comma, space, or dash1. In this case, the analyst can use parsing to split the column by the comma delimiter and create three new columns: one for the last name, one for the first name, and one for the middle initial. This will make the data more organized and easier to analyze.
