問題 #60

An organization is writing its test strategy in order to define the test levels and test types that are in scope for testing. In the past, the organization has experienced service disruptions after some releases of a particular application. These disruptions were happening because the application caused other applications to generate errors.

Which test level should the organization focus on to address this weakness?

- A. System
- B. Acceptance
- C. Unit
- D. Integration

答案: D

解題說明:

Integration testing focuses on verifying how different applications and components work together, helping to identify and prevent errors that occur when the new application affects other systems.

問題 #61

A large organization is planning to integrate multiple systems into its existing IT infrastructure. What approach should the organization consider to achieve effective integration?

- A. Implementing point-to-point integration for each system
- B. Adopting a 'big bang' approach for all integrations simultaneously
- C. Using incremental delivery for the integration of multiple components
- D. Choosing direct integration with no predetermined order for deployment

答案: C

解題說明:

The organization should use incremental delivery for the integration of multiple components (C). The ITIL 4 Specialist: Create, Deliver and Support study guide (Section 2.1.3) advocates incremental approaches to manage risk and ensure stability during integration. The 'big bang' approach (A) is risky; point-to-point (B) is complex; and no order (D) lacks structure.

However, employees are reluctant to suggest improvements because their suggestions have been ignored in the past. The employees do not trust their managers to be open and transparent. Which concept should be applied to overcome this challenge?

- A. A continual improvement culture
- B. Shift-left
- C. Working with a customer-oriented mindset
- D. Workforce planning and management

答案: A

The organization should apply a continual improvement culture (C). The ITIL 4 Specialist: Create, Deliver and Support study guide (Section 3.4.1) defines this culture as one that fosters trust, encourages employee input, and ensures suggestions are acted upon through transparent processes, addressing the lack of trust and past neglect. This aligns with the service value system's focus on ongoing enhancement. Option A is customer-focused but not employee-centric; option B relates to task shifting; and option D addresses staffing, not cultural issues. The guide emphasizes leadership's role in building this culture.

The ITIL 4 Specialist: Create, Deliver and Support study guide (Section 3.3.2) advocates for flexible role definitions to respond to technological and market shifts, ensuring the service value system remains effective. This approach supports skill development and role evolution, unlike option A (rigid focus), option B (technology-specific paths), or option D (narrow technical emphasis). The guide emphasizes adaptability as a core competency.
