NEW QUESTION # 322

A solutions architect must design a highly available infrastructure for a website. The website is powered by Windows web servers that run on Amazon EC2 instances. The solutions architect must implement a solution that can mitigate a large-scale DDoS attack that originates from thousands of IP addresses. Downtime is not acceptable for the website.

Which actions should the solutions architect take to protect the website from such an attack? (Select TWO.)

- A. Use AWS Shield Advanced to stop the DDoS attack.
- B. Use EC2 Spot Instances in an Auto Scaling group with a target tracking scaling policy that is set to 80% CPU utilization
- C. Configure the website to use Amazon CloudFront for both static and dynamic content.
- D. Configure Amazon GuardDuty to automatically block the attackers.
- E. Use an AWS Lambda function to automatically add attacker IP addresses to VPC network ACLs.

Answer: A,C

NEW QUESTION # 323

A solutions architect is optimizing a website for an upcoming musical event. Videos of the performances will be streamed in real time and then will be available on demand. The event is expected to attract a global online audience. Which service will improve the performance of both the real-time and on-demand streaming?

- A. Amazon CloudFront
- B. Amazon Route 53
- C. Amazon S3 Transfer Acceleration
- D. AWS Global Accelerator

Answer: A

NEW QUESTION # 324

A web design company currently runs several FTP servers that their 250 customers use to upload and download large graphic files. They wish to move this system to AWS to make it more scalable, but they wish to maintain customer privacy and keep costs to a minimum.

What AWS architecture would you recommend?

- A. Create a single S3 bucket with Requester Pays turned on and ask their customers to use an S3 client instead of an FTP client. Create a bucket for each customer with a Bucket Policy that permits access only to that one customer.
- B. Create a single S3 bucket with Reduced Redundancy Storage turned on and ask their customers to use an S3 client instead of an FTP client. Create a bucket for each customer with a Bucket Policy that permits access only to that one customer.
- C. ASK their customers to use an S3 client instead of an FTP client. Create a single S3 bucket. Create an IAM user for each customer. Put the IAM Users in a Group that has an IAM policy that permits access to sub-directories within the bucket via use of the 'username' Policy variable.
- D. Create an auto-scaling group of FTP servers with a scaling policy to automatically scale-in when minimum network traffic on the auto-scaling group is below a given threshold. Load a central list of ftp users from S3 as part of the user Data startup script on each Instance.

Answer: C

NEW QUESTION # 325

A company wants to manage Amazon Machine Images (AMIs). The company currently copies AMIs to the same AWS Region where the AMIs were created. The company needs to design an application that captures AWS API calls and sends alerts whenever the Amazon EC2 CreateImage API operation is called within the company's account. Which solution will meet these requirements with the LEAST operational overhead?

- A. Create an Amazon EventBridge (Amazon CloudWatch Events) rule for the CreateImage API call. Configure the target as an Amazon Simple Notification Service (Amazon SNS) topic to send an alert when a CreateImage API call is detected.
- B. Create an AWS Lambda function to query AWS CloudTrail logs and to send an alert when a CreateImage API call is detected.
- C. Configure an Amazon Simple Queue Service (Amazon SQS) FIFO queue as a target for AWS CloudTrail logs. Create an AWS Lambda function to send an alert to an Amazon Simple Notification Service (Amazon SNS) topic when a CreateImage API call is detected.

- D. Configure AWS CloudTrail with an Amazon Simple Notification Service (Amazon SNS) notification that occurs when updated logs are sent to Amazon S3. Use Amazon Athena to create a new table and to query on CreateImage when an API call is detected.

Answer: D

NEW QUESTION # 326

A solutions architect needs to ensure that only resources in VPC vpc-11aabb22 can access an S3 bucket in account 123456789012 with Block Public Access enabled.

Which solution meets this requirement?

- A. Create a bucket policy with Allow and Resource "arn:aws:ec2:us-west-2:123456789012:vpc/vpc-11aabb22".
- B. Create a bucket policy with Deny and "StringNotEquals": {"aws:PrincipalAccount": "123456789012"}.
- C. Create a bucket policy with Allow and a Condition using "StringNotEquals": {"aws:SourceVpc": "vpc-11aabb22"}.
- D. Create a bucket policy with Deny and a Condition using "StringNotEquals": {"aws:SourceVpc": "vpc-11aabb22"}.

Answer: D

Explanation:

To restrict S3 access to a specific VPC, AWS documentation specifies using a Deny policy with aws:SourceVpc for all unmatched VPCs:

Deny if aws:SourceVpc != vpc-11aabb22

This ensures only that VPC can reach the bucket via a VPC endpoint.

Allow policies (Options B and C) are incorrectly structured or use the wrong condition logic.

Option D limits by account, not VPC, and does not enforce VPC-level access.
