CompTIA Data+ Certification Exam Sample Questions (Q45-Q50):

NEW QUESTION # 45

Consider this dataset showing the retirement age of 11 people, in whole years:

54, 54, 54, 55, 56, 57, 57, 58, 58, 60, 60

This tables show a simple frequency distribution of the retirement age data.

- A. 0
- B. 1
- C. 2
- D. 3

Answer: C

Explanation:

Explanation

A measure of central tendency (also referred to as measures of centre or central location) is a summary measure that attempts to describe a whole set of data with a single value that represents the middle or centre of its distribution.

There are three main measures of central tendency: the mode, the median and the mean. Each of these measures describes a different indication of the typical or central value in the distribution.

What is the mode?

The mode is the most commonly occurring value in a distribution.

The most commonly occurring value is 54, therefore the mode of this distribution is 54 years.

NEW QUESTION # 46

A development company is constructing a new unit in its apartment complex. The complex has the following floor plans:

Using the average cost per square foot of the original floor plans, which of the following should be the price of the Rose unit?

- A. $640,900
- B. $690,000
- C. $705,200
- D. $702,500

Answer: C

Explanation:

This is because the price of the Rose unit can be estimated using the average cost per square foot of the original floor plans, which are Jasmine, Orchid, Azalea, and Tulip. To find the average cost per square foot of the original floor plans, we can use the following formula:

Plugging in the values from the original floor plans, we get:

To find the price of the Rose unit, we can use the following formula:

Plugging in the values from the Rose unit, we get:

Therefore, the price of the Rose unit should be $705,200, using the average cost per square foot of the original floor plans.

NEW QUESTION # 47

An analyst collected data that includes primary account numbers, expiration dates, and service codes. Which of the following data governance classifications is used to describe this data?

- A. PCI
- B. PBI
- C. PI I
- D. PHI

Answer: A

NEW QUESTION # 48

A sales team wants visibility of current sales numbers, pipeline, and team performance. The team would also like to see calculations of individuals' earned commissions and projected commissions based on sales, but they want that information to be kept confidential. Which of the following would be the BEST way to provide this visibility?

- A. Create a dashboard with filters for the overall team, individuals, and management. Users can filter to see the data they want.
- B. Create a dashboard with views for team, individuals, and management. Configure permissions to control access.
- C. Create a dashboard displaying a data refresh date so users know the current sales numbers and configure permissions to control access.
- D. Create a dashboard for sales numbers, pipeline, and team and individual performance for the management team.

Answer: D

NEW QUESTION # 49

Given the following graph:

Which of the following summary statements upholds integrity in data reporting?

- A. While Strategy 2 does not result in the highest sales of Product D, over all products it appears to be the most effective.
- B. Product D should be promoted more than the other products in all strategies.
- C. Sales are approximately equal for Product A and Product B across all strategies.
- D. Strategy 4 provides the best sales in comparison to other strategies.

Answer: D

Explanation:

Strategy 4 provides the best sales in comparison to other strategies. This is because the total sales for Strategy 4 are the highest among all the strategies, as shown by the black line. The other statements are not accurate or do not uphold integrity in data reporting. Here is why:

Statement A is false because sales are not approximately equal for Product A and Product B across all strategies. For example, in Strategy 1, Product A has more sales than Product B, while in Strategy 3, Product B has more sales than Product A.

Statement C is misleading because it does not account for the difference in scale between the products. While Strategy 2 has the highest total sales among all products, it does not necessarily mean that it is the most effective for each product. For instance, Product D has very low sales in Strategy 2 compared to other strategies.

Statement D is biased because it does not provide any evidence or justification for why Product D should be promoted more than the other products in all strategies. It also ignores the fact that Product D has the lowest sales among all products in most of the strategies.
