NEW QUESTION # 30

Cloud Kicks (CK) completed a project in a sandbox environment and wants to migrate the changes to production. CK split the deployment into two distinct change sets. Change set 1 has new custom objects and fields. Change set 2 has updated profiles and automation.

What should the administrator consider before deploying the change sets?

- A. Both change sets must be deployed simultaneously.
- B. Change set 2 needs to be deployed first.
- C. Automations need to be deployed in the same change set in order to be activated.
- D. The Field-Level Security will not be deployed with the profiles in change set 2.

Answer: D

Explanation:

When deploying profiles using change sets, the field-level security settings are not included unless the fields themselves are also part of the change set. Therefore, the administrator should consider adding the new custom fields to change set 2 along with the profiles, or manually adjust the field-level security after deployment.

NEW QUESTION # 34

Cloud Kicks uses a dashboard with multiple components based on Account, Case, and Opportunity reports. The system administrator adds a dashboard filter on Account Owner. When filtering the dashboard by Account Owner, records are now missing from several Opportunity components.

What is the recommended way for the system administrator to resolve this issue?

- A. Create a joined Accounts and Opportunities report for the components.
- B. Add a cross-filter to the Opportunity source reports.
- C. Use a custom report type for Accounts with or without Opportunities.
- D. On the Opportunity components, change the equivalent field.

Answer: D

Explanation:

The equivalent field is the field that matches the dashboard filter field on the source report object. For example, if the dashboard filter is on Account Owner, then the equivalent field on the Opportunity object is Opportunity Owner. Changing the equivalent field ensures that the dashboard filter applies correctly to the Opportunity components. Reference:
