CompTIA Cloud Essentials+ Certification Exam Sample Questions (Q404-Q409):

NEW QUESTION # 404

Which of the following is the result of performing a physical-to-virtual migration of desktop workstations?

- A. VPN
- B. IaaS
- C. SaaS
- D. VDI

Answer: D

Explanation:

VDI, or Virtual Desktop Infrastructure, is the result of performing a physical-to-virtual migration of desktop workstations. VDI is a technology that allows users to access and run desktop operating systems and applications from a centralized server in a data center or a cloud, instead of from a physical machine on their premises. VDI provides users with virtual desktops that are delivered over a network to various devices, such as laptops, tablets, or thin clients<sup>1</sup>. VDI offers several benefits, such as improved security, reduced costs, increased flexibility, and enhanced performance<sup>2</sup>.

SaaS, or Software as a Service, is not the result of performing a physical-to-virtual migration of desktop workstations, but a cloud service model that provides ready-to-use software applications that run on the cloud provider's infrastructure and are accessed via a web browser or an API<sup>3</sup>. SaaS does not involve migrating desktop workstations, but using software applications that are hosted and managed by the cloud provider.

IaaS, or Infrastructure as a Service, is not the result of performing a physical-to-virtual migration of desktop workstations, but a cloud service model that provides access to basic computing resources, such as servers, storage, network, and virtualization, that are hosted on the cloud provider's data centers and are rented on-demand. IaaS does not involve migrating desktop workstations, but renting infrastructure resources that can be used to host various workloads.

VPN, or Virtual Private Network, is not the result of performing a physical-to-virtual migration of desktop workstations, but a technology that creates a secure and encrypted connection between a device and a network over the internet. VPN does not involve migrating desktop workstations, but connecting to a network that can provide access to remote resources or services. Reference: What is VDI?
