CBCI Exam (For use in studying the Good Practice Guidelines and passing your CBCI exam) Good Luck.

Initial BIA Objectives Answer- Develop framework for further analysis
Clarify BCM Program scope

(may combine strategic, tactical, and operational BIA tasks)

Strategic BIA Objective Answer- Identify and prioritize organization's products and services
Determine org's MTPDs (recovery timescales) and MBCOs (disruption tolerance levels)
Clarify/review BCM program scope (re: products/services)

Tactical BIA Objective Answer- Determine process(es) required for delivering most urgent products/services
Access impact of disruption to required processes

Operational BIA Objective Answer- Identify and prioritize activities (at operational level) that contribute to the identified processes for delivering most urgent products/services
Determine resources required for activity continuity/recovery
Collect detailed resource requirements (may be higher than normal to cope with backlog)--inc. supplier dependencies

Tactical BIA Process Answer- For processes (i.e. often cuts across many departments/business units)

Identify process owner
Determine BIA scope (product/service group under consideration)
Identify dependencies for processes delivering most urgent products/services
Quantify each process' MTPD (using those of the group as a guide)
Establish RTOs and RPOs
Process owner approves accuracy
Obtain support from Top Mgmt
Publish results

Operational BIA Process Answer- Similar to Tactical BIA, BUT focus is on individual activities
Could be at the departmental or single business unit level

Identify/prioritize activities
Quantify required resources

BCI Certificate of the Business Continuity Institute (CBCI) Sample Questions (Q36-Q41):

NEW QUESTION # 36
Which of the following is a possible outcome of a gap analysis to establish whether new strategies and solutions are required?

- A. Validation exercises to confirm the findings of the gap analysis that can be presented to top management as part of the decision-making process
- B. Agreement from top management that a Business Impact Analysis (BIA) should be completed to determine the new procedures required
- C. A determination that Business Continuity capabilities exceed requirements and resources could be redistributed
- D. A schedule for sharing the outcomes with all personnel to invite their comments and encourage them to embrace Business Continuity

Answer: C

Explanation:
A gap analysis identifies discrepancies between current capabilities and required Business Continuity needs.
The CBCI 7.0 course explains that outcomes may reveal that the organization's existing capabilities exceed what is necessary, offering opportunities to redistribute resources or adjust investments. This insight helps optimize resource allocation and improve efficiency. While validation exercises and communication plans are important subsequent steps, the immediate and tangible result of a gap analysis can include the reassessment of capability adequacy.

NEW QUESTION # 37
Which of the following is a step that would be taken by the Business Continuity professional to support the process to advance an organization from embedding to embracing Business Continuity?

- A. Including funding in the Business Continuity budget to hire a consulting firm to run Business Continuity as a project
- B. Gaining an understanding of the organization's culture
- C. Assigning Business Continuity roles and responsibilities across the organization's hierarchy
- D. Development and adoption of a Business Continuity policy to protect the organization from disruptions

Answer: B

Explanation:
The CBCI 7.0 course identifiesgaining an understanding of the organization's cultureas a foundational step in moving from merely embedding Business Continuity practices to fully embracing them. Cultural insights enable targeted interventions that align Business Continuity with existing values, beliefs, and behaviours, enhancing engagement and ownership. Policies and role assignments are important but less effective without cultural alignment. Outsourcing continuity as a project risks detachment from organizational realities. Understanding culture guides effective communication, training, and leadership strategies that foster a pervasive continuity mindset.

NEW QUESTION # 38

Which of the following is NOT part of the process to implement solutions to resume business operations?

- A. Updating the Activities Business Impact Analysis (BIA) to take into account the effect of the solutions on priority activities
- B. Complying with the organization's project management procedures
- C. Ensuring alignment with the response structure and plans
- D. Providing training for users of solutions and support staff

Answer: A

Explanation:
While the Activities BIA informs the development of solutions,updating the BIA is not part of the solution implementation process itself. The CBCI 7.0 course explains that implementing solutions focuses on ensuring that operational plans, training, and governance are aligned and effectively deployed. Training equips personnel to use and support new solutions properly. Compliance with project management processes ensures structured, controlled implementation. The BIA is a foundational analysis tool and is typically reviewed or updated separately during scheduled risk and impact assessments rather than during solution implementation. Conflating BIA updates with implementation may confuse strategic assessment with operational execution.

NEW QUESTION # 39

In relation to Solutions Design, a gap analysis is used to determine whether:

- A. Personnel are embracing Business Continuity sufficiently well to deliver Business Continuity requirements
- B. New strategies and solutions are in order to meet Business Continuity requirements
- C. The results of an external audit are justified in terms of internal evidence of Business Continuity achievements
- D. The organization is performing at its optimum financial level

Answer: B

Explanation:
A gap analysis is a critical evaluation tool used in the Solutions Design phase to identify differences between existing Business Continuity capabilities and what is required to achieve organizational resilience. The CBCI
7.0 course specifies that this analysisdetermines if new or revised strategies and solutions are neededto meet Business Continuity requirements effectively. By comparing current states with desired outcomes, the gap analysis highlights areas lacking adequate controls, resources, or processes. It drives decision-making for prioritizing improvements and investments in continuity measures. This systematic assessment ensures that Business Continuity strategies are fit for purpose and aligned with evolving risks and business objectives. It is not focused on financial performance or audit justifications but on actionable capability enhancements.

NEW QUESTION # 40

When establishing a Business Continuity Management System (BCMS), engagement with stakeholders is important. Which of the following is NOT a reason for engaging with internal stakeholders?

- A. Existing policies and procedures may be relevant to the BCMS so early identification will reduce the risk for duplication of work
- B. Involving stakeholders will reduce the workload and responsibilities of the Business Continuity Professional as administrative activities can be delegated to other staff
- C. Early collaboration with colleagues will engage them in the process and secure support for the ongoing development and implementation of the BCMS
- D. Engagement of stakeholders will reduce the potential for conflict at later stages of the programme

Answer: B

Explanation:

While stakeholder engagement facilitates collaboration, reduces conflict, and helps identify relevant policies, it doesnotprimarily serve to lessen the workload of the Business Continuity Professional by delegating administrative tasks. The CBCI 7.0 course clarifies that stakeholder involvement is about gaining support, expertise, and ownership rather than shifting administrative burdens. The Business Continuity Professional retains core responsibility for managing the BCMS, though collaboration supports efficient and effective program delivery.
