BCI Certificate of the Business Continuity Institute (CBCI) Sample Questions (Q136-Q141):

NEW QUESTION # 136

The type of review that includes interviews with the people involved, activity logs, related media coverage and relevant videos and photos is:

- A. A post-incident review
- B. A supplier performance review

- C. A performance appraisal with individual employees
- D. An external audit

Answer: A

Explanation:

A post-incident review (PIR) is a comprehensive evaluation conducted after an actual disruption or incident, designed to assess what happened, how the response was managed, and lessons learned. The CBCI 7.0 course details that PIRs often involve gathering qualitative and quantitative data, including interviews with participants, examination of activity logs, media coverage, and visual evidence like photos and videos. This multi-source review provides a holistic understanding of the incident's impact, the effectiveness of plans, and areas for improvement. It differs from audits or appraisals by its focus on real events rather than planned assessments or individual performance evaluations. PIRs are critical for continuous improvement of the BCMS.

NEW QUESTION # 137

Which of the following is NOT correct in relation to the purpose of defining the scope of the Business Continuity Management System (BCMS)?

- A. It makes the best use of available time and finances
- B. It establishes permanent parameters for the BCMS
- C. It ensures a clear understanding of the areas of the organization that are, and are not, covered by the BCMS
- D. It defines the BCMS on the organization's products, services, and activities

Answer: B

Explanation:

The CBCI 7.0 course explains that defining the BCMS scope is a dynamic process, which means that the parameters set are not necessarily permanent and may be reviewed and revised as organizational needs, risks, and priorities evolve. While the scope provides clarity on which parts of the organization, products, services, and activities are included, it must remain flexible to adapt to change. Permanent or fixed parameters risk locking the BCMS into outdated or incomplete coverage, reducing effectiveness. Efficient use of time and resources is a benefit of appropriate scoping, but permanence is not a characteristic of good scope definition.

NEW QUESTION # 138

Which of the following explains the value that can be added when personnel embrace Business Continuity rather than seeing it as something embedded in their job role?

- A. Personnel view Business Continuity as additional requirements which demand further training
- B. Personnel complete tasks as instructed within the time allocated
- C. Personnel are aware of Business Continuity and attend meetings if required to
- D. Personnel feel committed to Business Continuity and ensure that their tasks are completed promptly and with attention to detail

Answer: D

Explanation:

Personnel who genuinely embrace Business Continuity demonstrate commitment beyond compliance, proactively ensuring tasks related to continuity are completed promptly and with thoroughness. The CBCI 7.0 course stresses that this attitude leads to better preparedness, reduces risks, and enhances recovery capabilities, driving organizational resilience. Merely attending meetings or completing tasks as instructed reflects minimal engagement, whereas embracing continuity fosters ownership and accountability.

NEW QUESTION # 139

In order to ensure that priority is given to activities with the shortest Recovery Time Objectives (RTOs), strategies can:

- A. Include relevant extracts from the Business Impact Analysis (BIA)
- B. Highlight activities with short RTOs by categorising strategies by timeframe
- C. Include a risk assessment to identify the best treatment option

- D. Identify workarounds for all activities other than those with short RTOs

Answer: B

Explanation:

The CBCI 7.0 course highlights that categorizing strategies by timeframes is an effective method to ensure focus on activities with short RTOs. This approach visually and operationally segments recovery strategies, allowing the organization to prioritize resources and actions that address the most time-critical functions first.

Including BIA extracts supports understanding but is insufficient on its own. Risk assessments inform treatment choices but do not inherently prioritize by RTO. Workarounds for non-priority activities are useful but are a secondary measure after prioritization.

Categorizing by recovery time frames aligns operational focus with impact tolerances.

NEW QUESTION # 140

Which of the following is used to determine the organization's prioritised activities and the recovery timeframes and resource requirements?

- A. A risk assessment
- B. A Business Impact Analysis (BIA)
- C. A meeting with owners of product and services activities
- D. An exercise

Answer: B

Explanation:

The CBCI 7.0 course explains that the Business Impact Analysis (BIA) is the foundational tool used to identify and prioritize organizational activities, establish Recovery Time Objectives (RTOs), and determine the resources required for recovery. The BIA evaluates the impact of disruptions on critical activities and quantifies acceptable downtime, guiding the prioritization of recovery efforts. Unlike risk assessments, which identify potential threats, the BIA focuses on operational impacts and recovery priorities.

While meetings with activity owners contribute to data collection, it is the structured BIA process that synthesizes this information into actionable recovery targets. Exercises test plans but do not determine priorities.
