- A. Hotspot
- B. Bluetooth
- C. NFC
- D. USB

Answer: C

NEW QUESTION # 197

Which of the following best describes metered utilization for cloud computing?

- A. Cloud resources are billed to clients based on usage.
- B. Cloud resources are located in the on-site data center.
- C. Cloud resources are shared with other companies conducting similar business.
- D. Cloud resources are available at a fixed amount for a fixed price.

Answer: A

Explanation:

Metered utilization for cloud computing is a pricing model where cloud service providers charge clients based on the amount of resources they consume, such as network bandwidth, storage space, CPU cycles, or memory.

This allows clients to pay only for what they use, rather than a fixed amount or a subscription fee. Metered utilization can also enable clients to scale their cloud resources up or down according to their needs and demand.

NEW QUESTION # 198

Which of the following should a technician use in DNS to map a device to an IPv6 address?

- A. A
- B. MX
- C. CNAME
- D. AAAA

Answer: D

Explanation:

In DNS (Domain Name System), the AAAA record is used to map a domain or device to an IPv6 address.

IPv6 addresses are 128-bit addresses, and the AAAA record is specifically designed for handling these larger addresses.

C: AAAA: This record is used to associate a hostname with an IPv6 address in DNS.

Why the other options are incorrect:

A: An A record maps a domain to an IPv4 address, not an IPv6 address.

B: CNAME: A CNAME (Canonical Name) record is used to alias one domain name to another but does not map to an IP address directly.

D: MX: An MX (Mail Exchange) record is used to direct email traffic to the correct email servers, not to map devices to IP addresses.

This falls under the Networking domain of the CompTIA A+ Core 1 exam
