Asset value is determined by which of the following elements?

- A. Ease of replacement, some measure of value, and original cost
- B. Criticality, ease of replacement, and some measure of value
- C. Original cost, criticality, and ease of replacement
- D. Value, original cost, and criticality

Answer: B

Explanation:
Comprehensive Detailed Explanation:
Asset value in physical security is determined not just by its original purchase cost, but by:
Criticality: How essential the asset is to operations or mission success.

Ease of Replacement: Difficulty or time involved in replacing the asset.
Some Measure of Value: This may include financial worth, proprietary importance, or symbolic significance.
This broader view reflects operational risk more accurately than financial cost alone.
A, B, and C mention components but do not include all three core elements correctly.

A system in which installation circuits are connected to local police or fire departments or 911 centers by leased telephone lines is called;

- A. Local alarm system
- B. Proprietary system
- C. Auxiliary system
- D. Central station

Answer: C

Explanation:
An auxiliary alarm system uses a direct connection (usually via leased lines) to a public emergency service center, such as police, fire, or 911. This provides rapid response but limits control to only the responding agencies, unlike proprietary or central station systems.

NEW QUESTION # 251
The introduction of holography into badge control systems reduces the chance of:

- A. Theft
- B. Security
- C. Intrusion
- D. Counterfeiting

Answer: D

Explanation:
Holography on ID badges provides a unique, hard-to-replicate visual feature that significantly reduces the chances of badge counterfeiting. Holograms are difficult to duplicate with standard printing technologies, thus enhancing the integrity of badge-based access control systems.
Theft (A) and Intrusion (C) are indirect risks that holography helps mitigate by reducing counterfeiting.
Security (D) is a broad concept rather than a specific risk being addressed.
