NEW QUESTION # 169
A customer wants to have their MetroCluster IP automatically switch over in the event of a site disaster.
Which two NetApp features can the customer use to automate switchover? (Choose two.)

- A. BlueXP observability
- B. ONTAP Mediator service
- C. MetroCluster TieBreaker
- D. Active IQ Unified Manager
- E. Data Broker

Answer: B,C

Explanation:
C). ONTAP Mediator service: The ONTAP Mediator is specifically designed for use with MetroCluster IP configurations. It acts as an external tiebreaker between the two MetroCluster sites. In the event of a site disaster, the Mediator service helps to determine whether a switchover is necessary and can initiate this process automatically. This is crucial for ensuring data availability and consistency, especially in scenarios where one of the sites becomes isolated or goes offline.
D). MetroCluster TieBreaker: The MetroCluster TieBreaker is another tool that serves a similar purpose to the ONTAP Mediator. It monitors the health and connectivity of the MetroCluster sites and can automate the switchover process in case of a site failure. By acting as an independent observer, the TieBreaker ensures that the decision to failover is made accurately, preventing split-brain scenarios and data inconsistencies.
