ISACA Certified Information Security Manager Sample Questions (Q197-Q202):

NEW QUESTION # 197

Which of the following is the MOST effective way of ensuring that business units comply with an information security governance framework?

- A. Conducting a business impact analysis (BIA)
- B. Performing security assessments and gap analyses

- C. Conducting information security awareness training
- D. Integrating security requirements with processes

Answer: C

NEW QUESTION # 198

An organization learns that a third party has outsourced critical functions to another external provider. Which of the following is the information security manager's MOST important course of action?

- A. Recommend canceling the contract with the third party.
- B. Conduct an external audit of the contracted third party.
- C. Engage an independent audit of the third party's external provider.
- D. Evaluate the third party's agreements with its external provider.

Answer: D

Explanation:

According to the CISM Review Manual, the information security manager should evaluate the third party's agreements with its external provider to ensure that the security requirements and controls are adequate and consistent with the organization's expectations. Engaging or conducting an audit may be a subsequent step, but not the most important one. Recommending canceling the contract may be premature and impractical.

NEW QUESTION # 201

Who is BEST suited to determine how the information in a database should be classified?

- A. Database administrator (DBA)
- B. Data owner
- C. Database analyst
- D. Information security analyst

Answer: B

Explanation:

Explanation

= Data owner is the best suited to determine how the information in a database should be classified, because data owner is the person who has the authority and responsibility for the data and its protection. Data owner is accountable for the business value, quality, integrity, and security of the data. Data owner also defines the data classification criteria and levels based on the data sensitivity, criticality, and regulatory requirements. Data owner assigns the data custodian and grants the data access rights to the data users. Data owner reviews and approves the data classification policies and procedures, and ensures the compliance with them.
