NEW QUESTION # 13
What are two functions of the four Ethernet switches in the supported configuration shown in the exhibit?
(Choose two.)

- A. to enable SyncMirror replication
- B. to install cross-site cluster management switches
- C. to provide connectivity for NVRAM over iWARP
- D. to provide a direct connection for SnapMirror Synchronous

Answer: A,C

Explanation:
The exhibit represents aMetroCluster IPconfiguration, which uses Ethernet switches to provide redundant connectivity between sites.
In this architecture, the Ethernet switches are responsible for transportingNVRAM replication traffic using iWARP (RDMA over TCP/IP). This enables synchronous replication of write logs between HA partners across sites.
Additionally, the switches supportSyncMirror replication, which maintains mirrored aggregates across sites to provide continuous data availability in the event of a site failure.
SnapMirror Synchronous and cluster management traffic do not use these switches directly in this configuration. Therefore, the correct answers areC and D.

NEW QUESTION # 14

You are setting up a peer relationship between two ONTAP clusters.
In this scenario, which two statements are true regarding authentication? (Choose two.)

- A. Peering authentication status can be verified with the cluster peer show command.
- B. Peering authentication is required before enabling peering encryption.
- C. Peering authentication can use an ONTAP generated passphrase.
- D. Peering authentication can be configured using LDAP users and groups.

Answer: A,C

Explanation:
Explanation (250-350 words):
Cluster peering authentication is a foundational ONTAP SAN concept that ensures secure trust between clusters before data replication can occur. Authentication is performed during the peering process and establishes mutual trust.
ONTAP supportspassphrase-based authentication, where a passphrase is either user-defined or automatically generated by ONTAP. This passphrase is exchanged between clusters to authenticate the peer relationship. LDAP is not used for cluster peering authentication.
Administrators can verify the authentication and status of cluster peering relationships using thecluster peer showcommand, which displays peer state, availability, and authentication status.
Peering encryption can be enabled independently and does not require authentication to be completed first, making option C incorrect.
Therefore, the correct answers areA and D.

NEW QUESTION # 15

Which command would be used to measure the throughput and latency of traffic between nodes?

- A. cluster ping-cluster
- B. qos statistics workload performance show
- C. statistics node show
- D. network test-path

Answer: A

Explanation:
The cluster ping-cluster command is specifically designed to testinter-node cluster network connectivity, includinglatency, packet loss, and throughputbetween cluster nodes. This command generates synthetic traffic over the cluster interconnect and measures performance characteristics that directly affect cluster health and stability.
The command is commonly used duringpost-installation validation, cluster expansion, and troubleshooting scenarios involving cluster network performance. It provides insight into whether the cluster interconnect is operating within expected parameters.
Other commands listed do not provide this functionality. QoS workload statistics focus on application-level performance, network test-path validates reachability for LIF failover paths, and statistics node show reports internal node counters rather than inter-node network performance.
Therefore, the correct answer isB.

NEW QUESTION # 16

You are a NetApp Professional Services engineer. You have completed an ONTAP cluster installation and need to collect configuration information to enable creation of a Service Event Report (SER).

Which tool would you use?

- A. Active IQ scheduled reports
- B. Active IQ Config Advisor worksheet
- C. ONTAP System Manager
- D. NetAppDocs output report

Answer: D

Explanation:
Service Event Reports require standardized installation and configuration data.NetAppDocsgenerates structured output reports specifically designed for SER creation, including hardware, cabling, and configuration details. Other tools do not produce SER-formatted documentation.

NEW QUESTION # 17

- A. Hewlett-Packard
- B. Cisco
- C. Juniper Networks
