- B. Disable honeypot detection.
- C. Set the Radio Resource Management (RRM) interval.
- D. Enable rogue AP detection.

NEW QUESTION # 26

Exhibit:

Referring to the exhibit, what does the AI Validated notification for the WAN Edge tell the user?

- A. Marvis Actions has automatically fixed the WAN Edge issue at saltlakecity-branch1.
- B. Marvis has verified that the issue is resolved and has classified the issue as AI-validated.
- C. Marvis Actions has encountered an error that requires restarting.
- D. Marvis has confirmed that there is an issue at saltlakecity-branch1.

Answer: B

Explanation:

The AI Validated notification for the WAN Edge signifies that Marvis has verified the underlying issue as resolved and has classified the incident as AI-validated. According to the Juniper Mist documentation, when Marvis completes its troubleshooting workflow and determines that a previously surfaced issue is cleared - either by automated remediation or through confirmation of operational health - Marvis marks the issue as

"AI Validated." This indicates both the end of the incident lifecycle and the confidence level provided by Mist's AI that the environment is healthy and functioning as expected. The notification does not mean an error remains, nor does it confirm merely the presence of an issue, nor that Marvis performed only an automatic fix (which may also be the case, but the "AI Validated" label is for resolved/confirmed resolution status). This is most often seen as a final state within the Marvis Actions interface on the WAN Edge.
