ACFE Certified Fraud Examiner - Investigation Exam Sample Questions (Q29-Q34):

NEW QUESTION # 29

Cynthia is preparing to conduct a covert investigation. Prior to conducting surveillance of her subject, she creates a memorandum outlining the basis for her operation. Which of the following pieces of information should she include in her memorandum?

- A. All of the above
- B. Her first impression regarding the subject's culpability
- C. The name of the subject she will be observing
- D. The identities of any confidential sources to be used in the operation

Answer: C

NEW QUESTION # 30

During an interview, Alex asked a fraud suspect if he could retrieve the suspect's account records from her bank. The suspect said, "yes," but she did not provide consent in writing. Although the suspect orally consented, the suspect's bank is NOT required to allow Alex to access the suspect's account records at this point.

- A. False
- B. True

Answer: B

Explanation:

Fraud examiners can obtain documentary evidence by consent, subpoena, or other legal means. While oral consent may sometimes be sufficient, bank records from financial institutions generally require written consent. Without written consent, the bank is not required to provide access. As stated in the manual:

"Accessing a subject's bank records from financial institutions, for instance, generally requires written consent. If no consent is given... legal action might be required, most often a subpoena or other court order".

Thus, although the suspect gave oral consent, Alex cannot access the bank records without written authorization or legal order.
