ensures that the data passed through these interfaces is accurate, secure, and reliable. Unlike UI testing, which focuses on how the end-user interacts with the application, API testing goes one level deeper and validates the logic and functionality behind the scenes. For example, when you book a flight on a travel app, APIs fetch seat availability, process payments, and confirm reservations. If those APIs fail, the entire booking experience collapses, no matter how polished the app's design looks.

Difference between manual and automated API testing

Aspects	Manual API Testing	Automated API Testing
Approach	Performed using tools like Postman or SoapUI where testers send requests and inspect responses manually.	Uses scripts and frameworks to run tests automatically and repeatedly.
Best Use Case	Suitable for simple validations, one-time checks, or exploring new APIs.	Ideal for large applications, regression testing, and continuous validation.
Scalability	Becomes inefficient and time-consuming when testing hundreds of endpoints with multiple data sets.	Easily scales to handle complex workflows and thousands of test cases.
Speed	Slow, as each test has to be executed and verified manually.	Fast, as scripts can execute large test suites in minutes.
Consistency	Can vary based on human judgment, leading to errors or missed checks.	Provides consistent, repeatable results every time.
CI/CD Integration	Not practical for continuous integration and delivery pipelines.	Seamlessly integrates into CI/CD pipelines for faster feedback and releases.

Benefits of automating API tests

- Consistency and reliability – Manual testing can vary based on human judgment, but automation ensures that the same tests run the same way every time, reducing errors and improving reliability.

Salesforce Process Automation Accredited Professional Sample Questions (Q45-Q50):

NEW QUESTION # 45

Universal Containers (UC) requested that when a support case is open for more than 7 days, a chatter post should be posted to the Regional could the admin meet this requirement?

- A. Scheduled workflow rule
- B. Scheduled process builder
- C. LWC component
- D. Apex trigger

Answer: B

Explanation:

To ensure a Chatter post is made when a support case is open for more than 7 days, a Scheduled Process Builder can be used. This feature allows administrators to configure processes that execute at a specified time, such as 7 days after a case is opened, and can include actions like posting to Chatter. This method provides an automated way to alert the Regional team without custom code. Reference: Salesforce Help - Schedule-Triggered Flows
