CompTIA Data+ Exam (2025) Sample Questions (Q90-Q95):

NEW QUESTION # 90

A manager wants to use the information in a recurring report on incomplete timesheets for the prior month to guide employee outreach. Which of the following report types is the best for this task?

- A. Infographic
- B. Summary
- C. Snapshot
- D. Ad hoc

Answer: B

Explanation:

This question is part of the Visualization and Reporting domain, focusing on selecting the appropriate report type for a specific purpose. The manager needs a recurring report on incomplete timesheets to guide outreach, which requires a concise, data-driven report.

* Summary (Option A): A summary report aggregates data (e.g., total incomplete timesheets per employee) and presents it concisely, making it ideal for recurring use to guide decisions like employee outreach.

* Infographic (Option B): Infographics are visual representations for broad audiences, not typically used for recurring, detailed employee outreach tasks.

* Snapshot (Option C): A snapshot report captures data at a specific point in time, but it's not ideal for recurring analysis of trends or aggregates.

* Ad hoc (Option D): Ad hoc reports are one-time, on-demand reports, not suitable for recurring needs.

The DA0-002 Visualization and Reporting domain includes "the appropriate visualization in the form of a report", and a summary report best fits the need for recurring, actionable data.

Which of the following visualizations is the most appropriate?

- A. Pie chart
- B. KPI card
- C. Pivot table
- D. Box plot

Answer: A

Explanation:

This question pertains to the Visualization and Reporting domain, focusing on selecting the appropriate visualization for a specific requirement. The task is to show the composition of total sales across three channels, which involves showing proportions.

* Pivot table (Option A): A pivot table summarizes data but isn't a visualization; it's more for data exploration.

* Pie chart (Option B): A pie chart shows the proportion of total sales for each channel (Digital, Store, Online), which is ideal for displaying composition.

* KPI card (Option C): A KPI card displays a single metric, not suitable for showing composition across multiple channels.

* Box plot (Option D): A box plot shows data distribution (e.g., quartiles), not proportions.

The DA0-002 Visualization and Reporting domain emphasizes "translating business requirements to form the appropriate visualization," and a pie chart is best for showing the composition of totals.

NEW QUESTION # 92

A data analyst is preparing a survey for Paralympic Games athletes. Which of the following should the analyst consider when creating this survey?

- A. Idioms
- B. Granularity
- C. Color contrast
- D. Refresh speed

Answer: C

Explanation:

This question pertains to the Visualization and Reporting domain, focusing on survey design considerations, particularly for accessibility. The survey is for Paralympic athletes, who may have visual impairments, requiring specific design considerations.

* Idioms (Option A): Idioms (e.g., colloquial phrases) might confuse non-native speakers, but they're not a primary survey design concern for Paralympic athletes.

* Color contrast (Option B): High color contrast ensures readability for athletes with visual impairments (e.g., color blindness), a critical accessibility consideration for Paralympic surveys.

* Refresh speed (Option C): Refresh speed is relevant for dashboards, not static surveys.

* Granularity (Option D): Granularity refers to data detail levels, not a survey design consideration.

The DA0-002 Visualization and Reporting domain includes "translating business requirements to form the appropriate visualization," and color contrast is a key accessibility factor in survey design for diverse audiences.

A manager needs a report to be sent by email every Monday for the next six months. Which of the following is the best way to accomplish this task?

- A. Developing a recurring process
- B. Creating a data snapshot
- C. Building self-service access

- D. Waiting for the request each week

Answer: A

Explanation:

This question falls under the Visualization and Reporting domain, focusing on report delivery methods. The task requires a report to be emailed every Monday for six months, indicating a scheduled, repeating process.

* Building self-service access (Option A): Self-service allows users to generate reports on-demand, but the manager wants automatic delivery.

* Creating a data snapshot (Option B): A snapshot captures data at a specific point, not suitable for recurring delivery over six months.

* Developing a recurring process (Option C): A recurring process schedules the report to be generated and emailed every Monday, meeting the requirement for automated delivery over six months.

* Waiting for the request each week (Option D): This is manual and inefficient, not suitable for a six-month schedule.

The DA0-002 Visualization and Reporting domain includes "the appropriate visualization in the form of a report" with delivery methods, and a recurring process is ideal for scheduled email delivery.

- A. User persona
- B. Defined parameters
- C. Filter options
- D. Level of detail

Answer: C

Explanation:

This question pertains to the Visualization and Reporting domain, focusing on dashboard features for displaying data. The dashboard needs to show aggregated sales by region and allow identification of high-volume sales by salesperson within each region.

* Defined parameters (Option A): Parameters set specific values (e.g., a date range), but they don't directly enable interaction with aggregated data.

* Filter options (Option B): Filter options allow the user to select a region and then view salespersons within that region, enabling the identification of high-volume sales per region interactively.

* Level of detail (Option C): Level of detail determines the granularity of data shown but doesn't facilitate interactive exploration.

* User persona (Option D): User personas guide dashboard design but aren't a communication technique for displaying data.

The DA0-002 Visualization and Reporting domain emphasizes "translating business requirements to form the appropriate visualization," and filter options best enable the interactive analysis required.
