An administrator needs to simplify daily operations within Prism Central for multiple clusters. Which entity can a category be assigned to?

- A. Cluster
- B. Storage Container
- C. Hypervisor
- D. Protection Domain

Answer: A

Explanation:

A category is a key-value pair that can be assigned to an entity in Prism Central to simplify daily operations and management. Categories can be used to filter, search, and group entities based on common attributes. Categories can also be used to define policies and permissions for different entities. A category can be assigned to a cluster, a VM, an image, a network, a blueprint, an application, or a project. A category cannot be assigned to a hypervisor, a protection domain, or a storage container, as these are not entities in Prism Central. Reference: Nutanix Certified Professional - Multicloud Automation (NCP-MCA) Exam Blueprint Guide, page 12; Nutanix Prism Central Guide, section 4.1.

NEW QUESTION # 55

A developer is building a Blueprint that deploys a Redhat Enterprise Linux VM on vSphere. During the testing of the Blueprint to prepare it for users, it is discovered that the App deployment fails with the error.

What is the cause of this errors?

- A. The rhel7 template is unavailable for the VM deployment.
- B. Cloud-init is not correctly formatted.
- C. Open-vm-tools is not installed or not started.
- D. vCenter Server cannot be reached.

Answer: C
